In this bicentennial year, each of us should take time to consider the changes which have taken place in this country over the past 200 years. The major changes: electricity, the telephone, cars, space flight, and other modern conveniences are ones with which we are all familiar. It is the small changes in our lives as students which we should be aware of. Yesterday's one room school houses, ink wells, and scarce textbooks have disappeared.

Your opinion may be that "those were the good ole days," a thought shared by many of our parents and grandparents. Or you may believe that today's schools outclass those of yesterday. But now is the time to stop and think.

Yesterday's student life included coming to school on horseback, bringing an apple for the teacher, stoking up the fireplace in the school. Sometimes students were forced to live in town during the week rather than going home to the farm each day. The days of dipping a girl's pigtail in an inkwell have long since passed. Square dances have evolved into Proms, sack lunches of sandwiches and fruit into machine-dispensed popcorn, potato chips, and coke, one-room schoolhouses into massive structures of steel. Who can say what the life of tomorrow's student will be like?

Broadway Production Hits Grand Blanc Stage

"No, No, Nanette," the 1925 Broadway musical, was a smash when it hit the Grand Blanc stage on May 14, 1975.

The four months of extensive preparation allowed little spare time for the 150 people involved. Jean Hinote assisted Al Gilbert, the internationally known choreographer from Hollywood, in teaching the students their dance routines. Mr. Mike Haynes directed the technical aspects of the play, while Mrs. Sherry Shaffer was in charge of the costumes, many of which came from the original Broadway production. The strobe lights in the number, "I Want To Be Happy", added a spectacular moment to the play. The Stage Band, directed by Mr. Dave Ryan, accompanied the cast throughout the play. Mrs. Linda Deretich and Miss Kay Snuffer led the actual drama of the play and Mr. Doug Shaffer directed the singers.

Nanette (Debbie Hamilton) a young, naive school girl in New York City, turns down a proposal from Tom Trainor (Jeff Lindsey) in order to live it up in Atlanic City.

In the mean time, her father Jimmy Smith (Dave Longroy) is having problems that threaten to break up the marriage of his best friend, Billy Early (Mike Paulsen) and his wife Lucille (Mary Wilson). These problems involve three young ladies, Betty from Boston (Karen Hocken), Flora from Frisco (Lisa Lyon) and Winnie from Washington (Sharon Salem).

Nanette, her maid Pauline (Debbie Hawkins), Tom, Jimmy, Jimmy's wife, Sue (Tammy Paul), Billy, and Lucille all arrive in Atlantic City to relax and smooth out their differences. While in Atlantic City the troubles are taken care of and Tom and Nanette announce their engagement.

The full houses of Howard Pepper Auditiorium proved the success of "No, No, Nanette."

Determination Pays Off For GBHS Journalists

Have you ever thought of what it would be like trying to put together a yearbook with pictures of over 3,000 students and faculty? Or publishing a school newspaper every other week with up-to-date information?

On May 14, 1975, the Echo and Bobcat Banner staffs and their parents joined together at the Grand Blanc Country Club to recognize the hardworking and dedicated members of both journalism staffs. Along with a delicious smorgasbord dinner, praise and awards were also lavishly dished out.

Assistant principal Mr. Ed Barney addressed special praise to everyone involved. Mr. Sam Lyndon of Walsworth Publishing Company showed his appreciation to the Echo staff by presenting Editors Karen Gallo and Sue Kubik and Advisor Mrs. Julie Hofstetter with an engraved plaque.

Banner Advisor, Mr. Ed Wright proudly presented Bob Edmonds and Mrs. Edmonds with a book in which one of Edmond's photographs had been published.

The traditional Green Rose Award for exceptional service to journalism honored Echo staff recepients Cheryl Hanna, Brenda Page and Peter Rachor; from the Banner staff; Joanne Henke. Thirteen students from both staffs were inducted into the Quill and Scroll, a national honorary journalism society.

Professional photographer Mr. George Sharley of Flint's Baldwin - Chase Studio and GBHS bookkeepper Mrs. Helen Sumpter were also recognized for invaluable cooperation with the journalism staffs.

"Moonlight Serenade" was a fitting theme for the 1975 Junior-Senior Prom. It was held at the Grand Blanc Golf Club. The dreamy night continued on into the daylight of Sunday and ended with breakfast. The "Flight" provided music of today and featured some tunes from the Jimmy Dorsey era. The movie that highlighted the evening was "1776". The juniors and seniors found the night beautiful in every way.

Honors Assembly Recognizes

The final week of high school is always a hectic one for seniors, and one of the many activities for them is the Annual Honors Assembly, held to recognize those students who have excelled in some area during their high school years. Parents, teachers, administrators, students and guest speakers gathered on June 10, 1975, to honor the top seniors in academics, athletics, music, leadership, and club activities for the Class of '75. Emceed by Mr. Larry MacQueen, academic awards were presented for Business, Math, and Top Ten. For athletics, students were honored with the Coaches Award and the sought-after "Athlete of the Year" title, bestowed by the Grand Blanc News. Other awards included the American Legion award, presented by the commander of Post 413, the Reverend Robert Davidson, the William E. McCarthy choir scholarship, the DAR awards, and perfect attendance awards. A vocal music intermission was provided by Mr. Doug Shaffer and the Chamber Choir. The Honors Assembly proved a rewarding and memorable experience for its participants.

The 549 Graduates . . .

Taken from a popular song, "We May Never Pass This Way Again" became the theme for the class of 1975 and its break with tradition. On June 11, 1975, carloads of family and friends poured into Flint's I.M.A. Auditorium parking lot. The I.M.A. was the site chosen by the graduates themselves. Due to previous cramped commencements in the high school gym, the class of '75 was the first class to hold its graduation at the I.M.A. Dr. Kenneth Armstrong, President of John Wesley College in Owosso, spoke to the 549 graduates, their family and friends. The A'Cappella Choir and Varsity Band provided the entertainment as the seniors brought their high school years to an end.

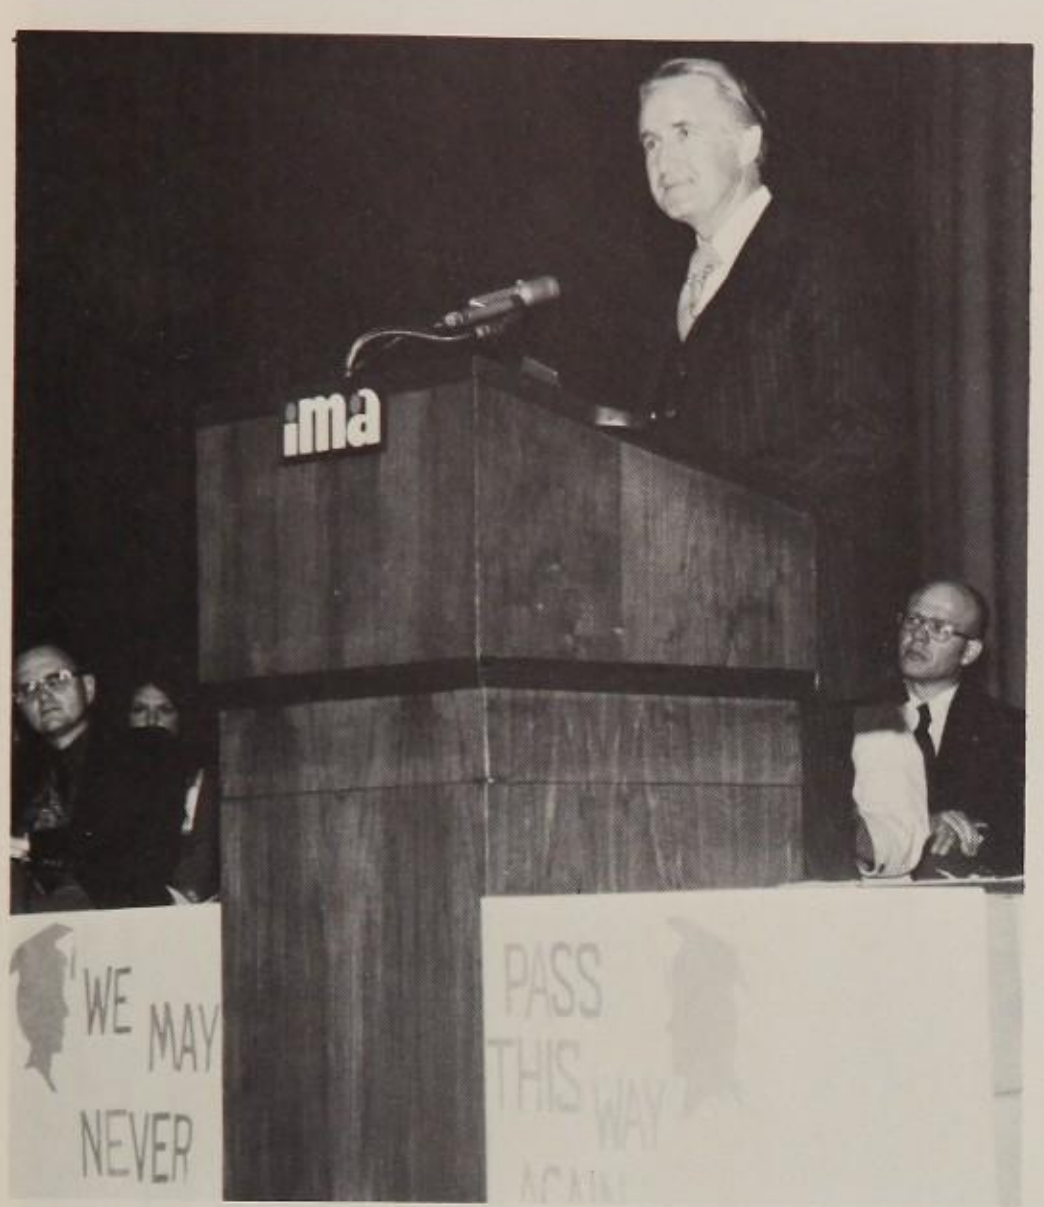
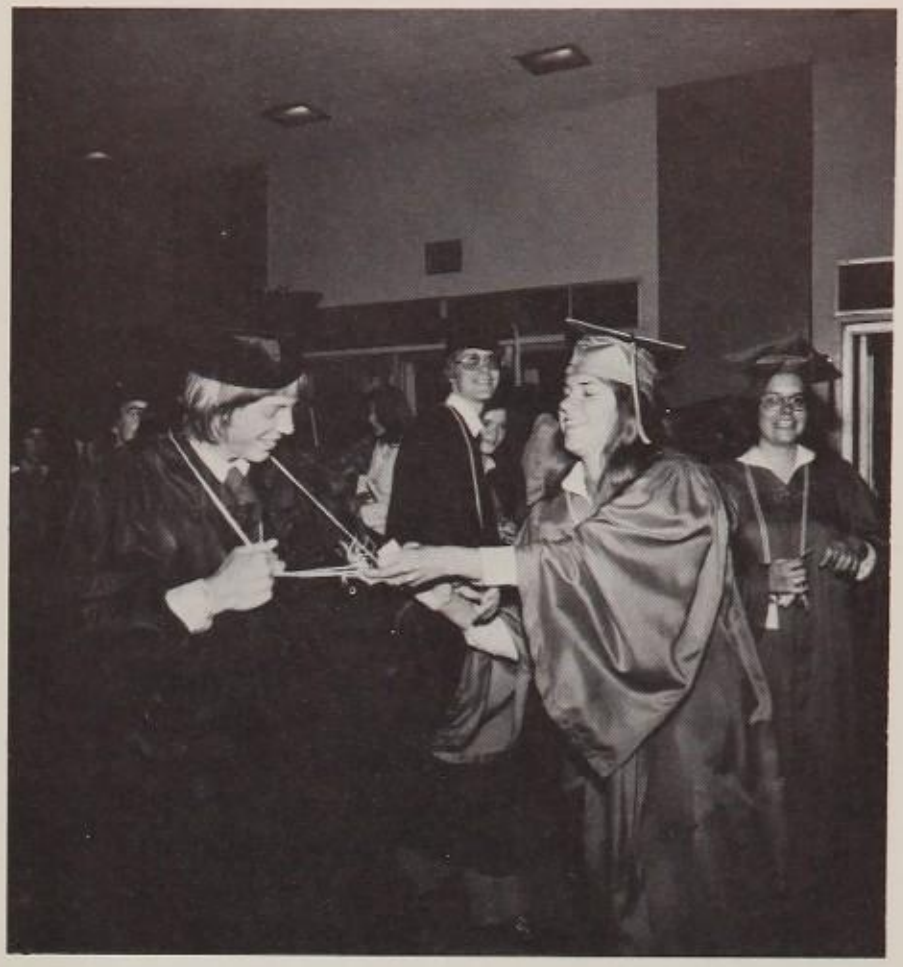
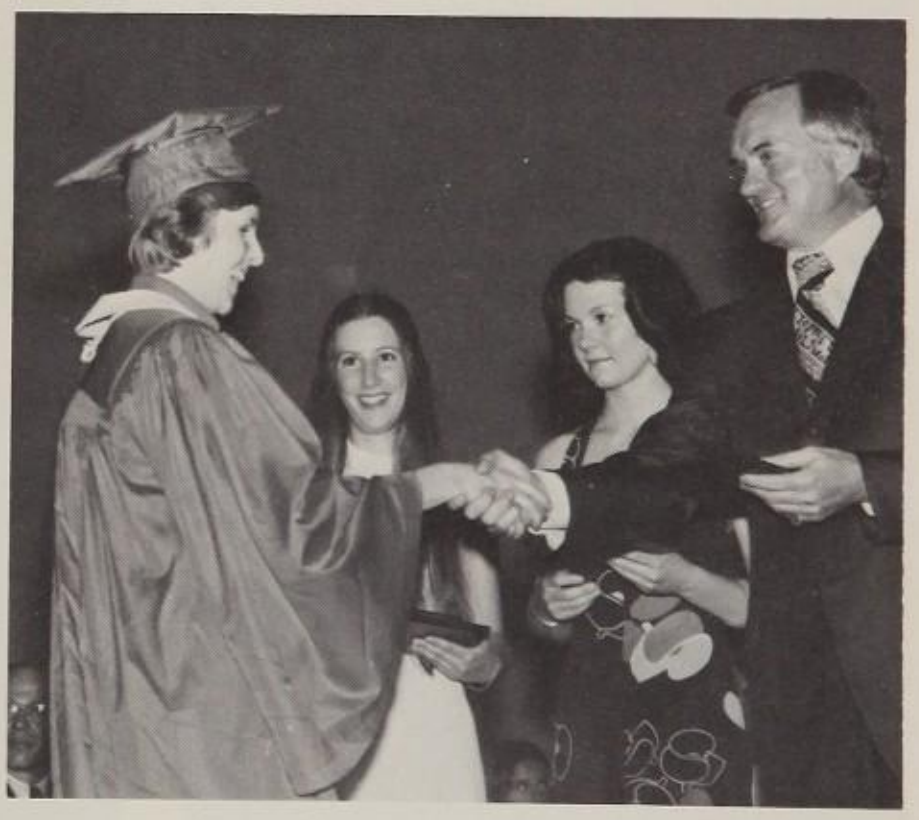
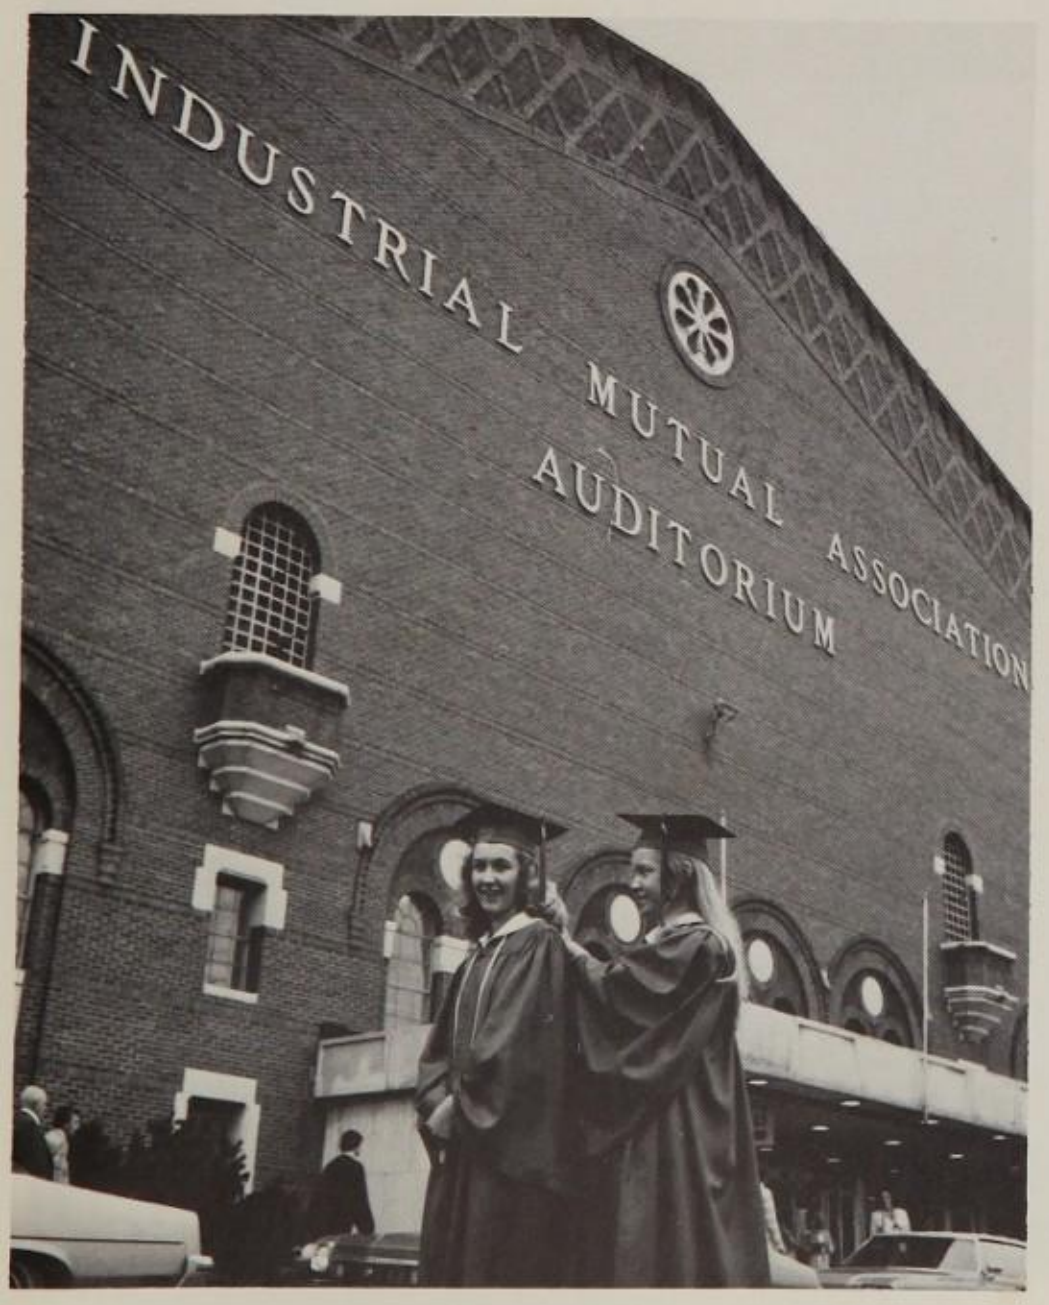
May Never Pass This Way Again









Queen's Court, Interclass Games Generate Cameraderie

Homecoming '75 began when the student body of GBHS was introduced to the Queens Court during Assemblies held on October 9. The Court consisted of Freshman Princess Becky Lamb, Sophomore Princess Lori Paulsen, Junior Princess Cindy Serges, and the Queen candidates Linda Chema, Tammy Paul, Lori Schabel, Harriet Tressedder, and Cecilia Trombley. During these assemblies the Queen Candidates, who were chosen by the Senior Class, gave formal speeches and answered impromptu questions put to them by emcee Joe Benkert. The Jazz Band provided the background music and returning '74 Queen, Chris Wilderotter was on hand to give the candidates some encouragement. The entire student body had an opportunity to vote for the candidate of their choice.

Although the Queen's Assemblies were the first event of the Homecoming season, the spirit and emotions really began with the Interclass Games on October 11. The crowded gym was hot and stuffy but the enthusiasm of the participants was not restrained. The tug-of-war was the deciding event between the Juniors and Seniors. At this time the tension mounted and all eyes were focused on the players. The final tug by the Juniors gave them first place by one-third of a point over the Seniors. The Sophomores came in third, followed by the Freshmen. The faculty also participated in the games. Jeff Lamb and Rusty Titus announced the events which included relay races, egg toss, spirit chain building, and a new event, the tricycle race.

On the morning of October 11, the streets of Grand Blanc were lined witn anxious, excited people waiting for the '75 Homecoming parade to begin. The theme of this year's parade was "Bicentennial People and Events." All the elementary schools and most of the community organizations were represented. In the float competition the Junior class placed first with a float of "Paul Revere's Ride." The Senior float, "Shot Heard 'Round the World", received second place, the Freshmen "Betsy Ross" third, and the Sophomore "A Boston Tea Party" fourth.

After the parade ended, the pregame ceremonies began. These ceremonies included a special performance from the A'Cappella Choir and the marching band with a solo by Mrs. David Ryan. Harriet Tresedder was crowned the '75 Homecoming Queen and the day ended perfectly when the Bobcats shut out the Trojans by a score of 20-0.

Park benches, bushes, and bill boards were the scenes of the '75 Homecoming Dance, "A Night in New York." The entertainment was provided by "Smack Dab." The atmosphere was filled with laughing faces, clapping hands and stomping feet. As the evening came to a close Homecoming '75 was over but the fond memory will forever linger.

Talent Shines At "Potpourri"

A new twist was added to GB assemblies this year when "Potpourri, That Wonderful Year", was produced. "Potpourri," a two hour talent show, consisted of elementary students from Indian Hill School and high school students. The tryouts for the performance were held in October and by November the first rehearsals began. The participants practiced frequently on weeknights, Saturdays and Sundays. Approximately 130 students were involved in the production, including the Stage Band. A range of acts graced the stage from singing and dancing to pantomines and skits. Mr. Haynes directed "Potpourri, That Wonderful Year," and stage manager was Patty Kalaquin. Student directors were Sue Lengauer and Jim Henson. Standing ovations indicated that two acts were noted as best reveiwed by the audience: "Subterfuge Children's Theatre" and "New Year's Eve Party." Four performances were given on November 20, 21, and 22, including two matinees and two evening shows. "Potpourri" was a complete sell-out for the two matinees. The evening performance offered a special attraction when Max Ellison, a Michigan poet, recited a group of poems. The money collected will be used for Thespian conferences and scholarships in which GB students will take part.

Seniors Slice Junior Porkers 32-12

November 15, 1975 was a night full of pride and rivalry. The weather was brisk, clear, and the field was a blur of crashing colors. The Juniors put up a strong fight in the first half, but the Seniors pushed the Junior Porkers out of the game during the second half. Lynn DeLosh, a Junior, grabbed onto two interceptions, one ending up in a 85-yard touchdown. Quick Kari Sanbron made an impressive touchdown as she sprinted down the field, escaping the entire Senior defensive line. Senior Porkers Paula Daly and Linda Chema were very effective as the halfbacks on the Senior team as they both ran touchdowns. Senior Quarterback Cindy Dunlap also stole a touchdown from the Junior's defense.

The Class of '76 has been victorious in the Porker Bowl for two consecutive years. Coaches and cheerleaders are of much importance to the girl porkers. Tense coaches teach the girls complicated plays and shout out helpful directions. Cheerleaders are another story all together. They pep the girls up and do some extraordinary cheers. Porker Bowl is a night of competition and fun. Seniors have had a lot of competition in the past two years and deserve their hard-earned title as "Porker Queens" of '75.

School Play

Brings Back Gay 90's

Only an Orphan Girl, held at Howard Pepper Auditorium on March 4, 5, and 6, had the atmosphere and spirit of the "Gay 90's" with heroes, heroines, and villains. Emcees Rusty Titus and Scott Martin introduced each character and scene. An added attraction to this year's all-shcool play was the selling of peanuts to throw at the villain after every evil deed. Miss Kay Snuffer and Mrs. Linda Deretich directed the play Only an Orphan Girl and credits go to the 15 cast members and a crew of 45. Mr. Michael Haynes-technical director, Dave Mulholland-stage manager, and Mr. Jerry Carroll-publicity director, headed the production staff.

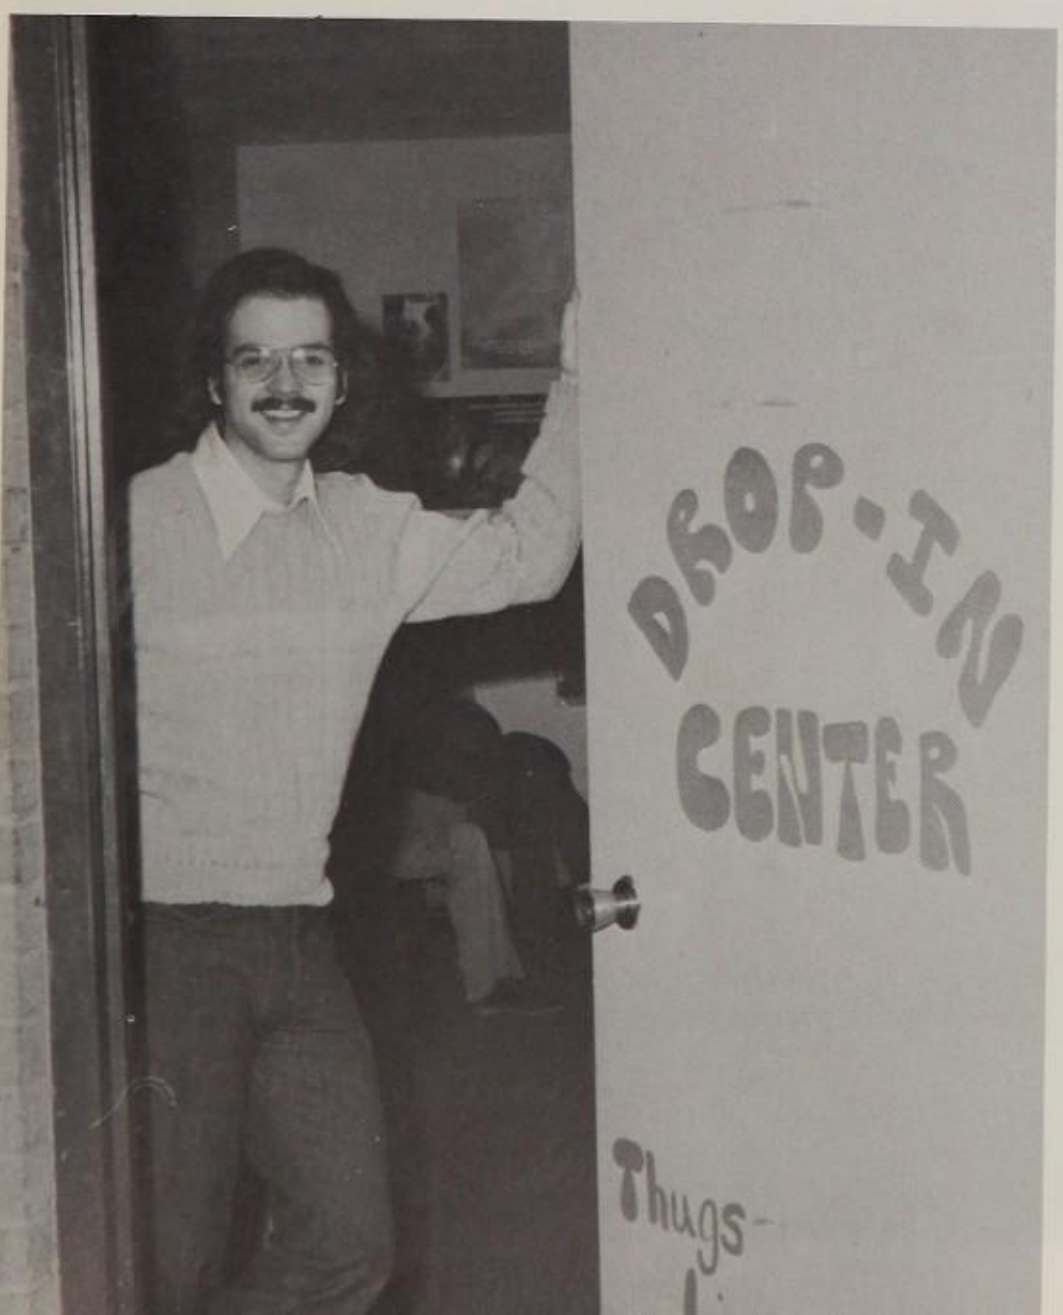
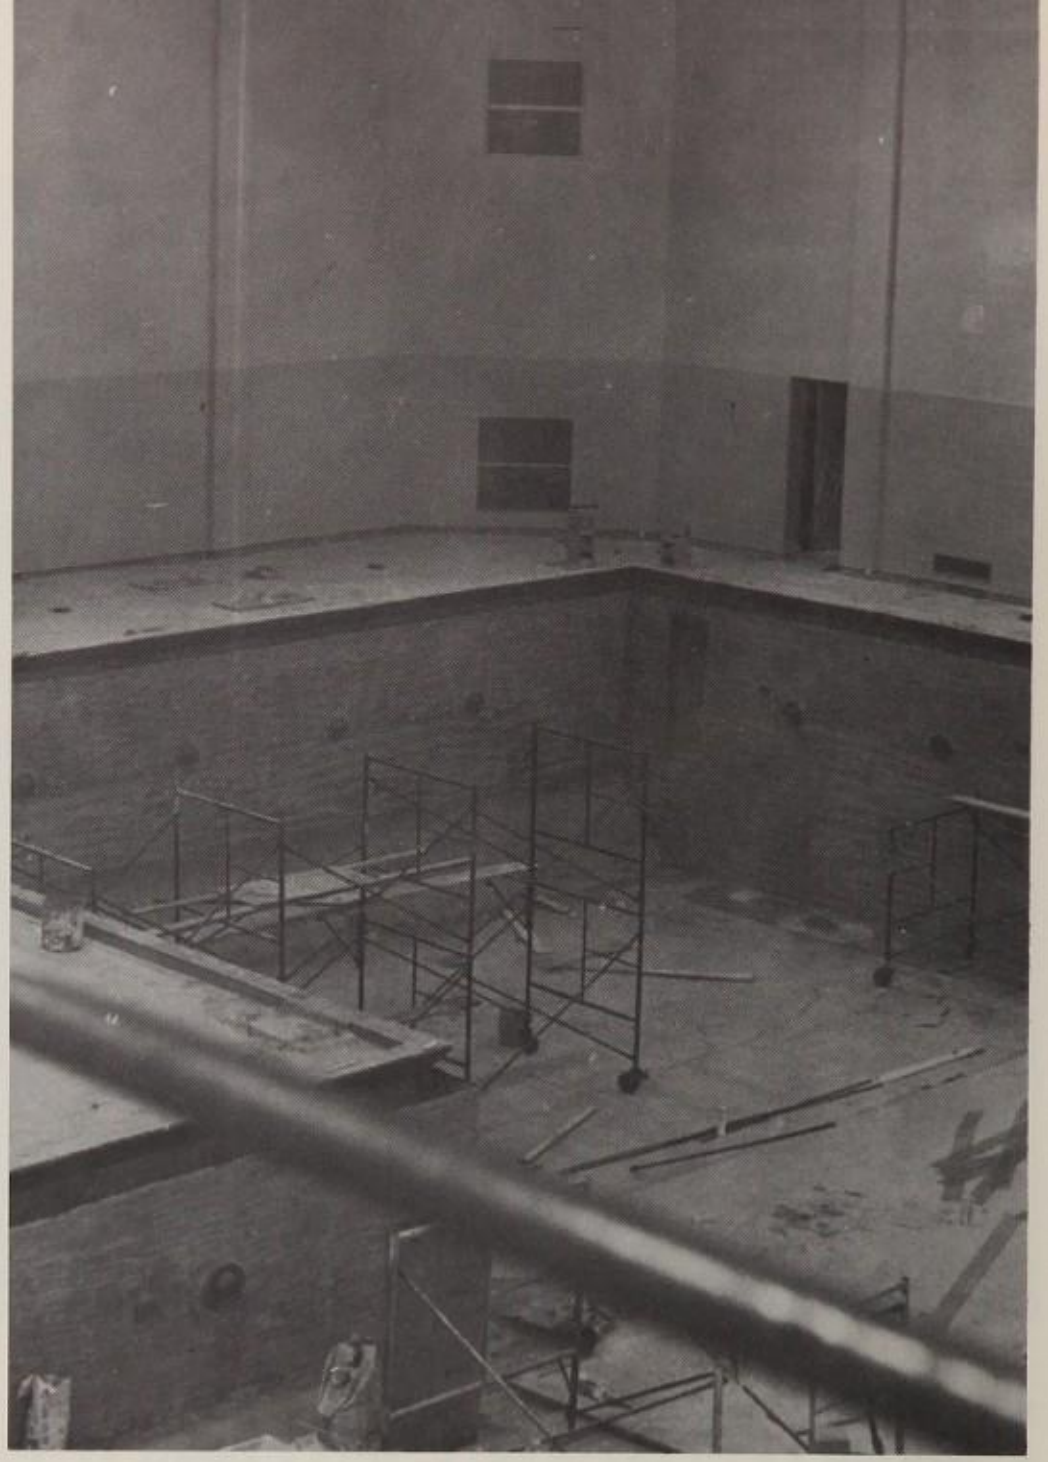
For Drop-In Center



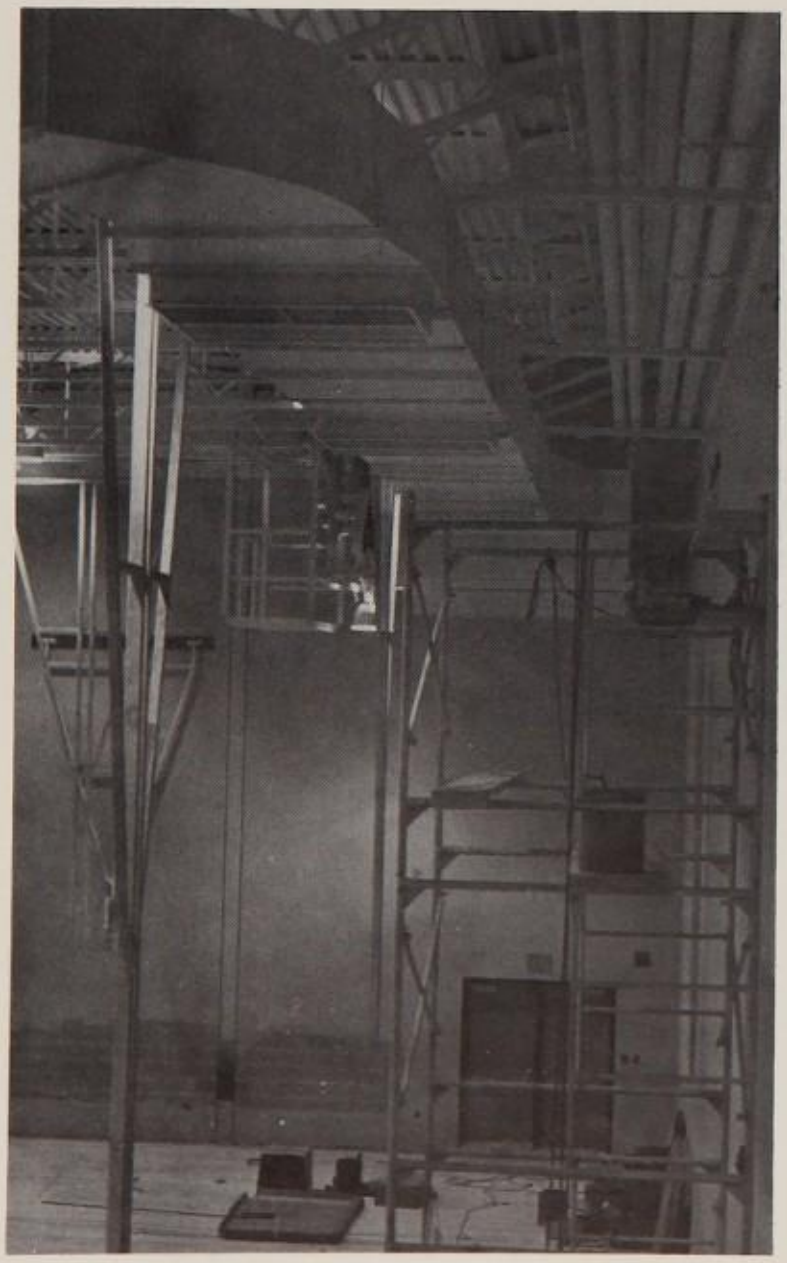
On January 12, 1976, the Drop-In Center reopened under the direction of Mr. Randy Sills.

Randy hopes that the comfortable and informal atmosphere of the Drop-In Center will encourage people to come in and just talk even though they don't have any pressing problems. Having more student involvement is the biggest aim. Through workshops, anyone can get to know himself better and possibly use this self-knowledge to help others.

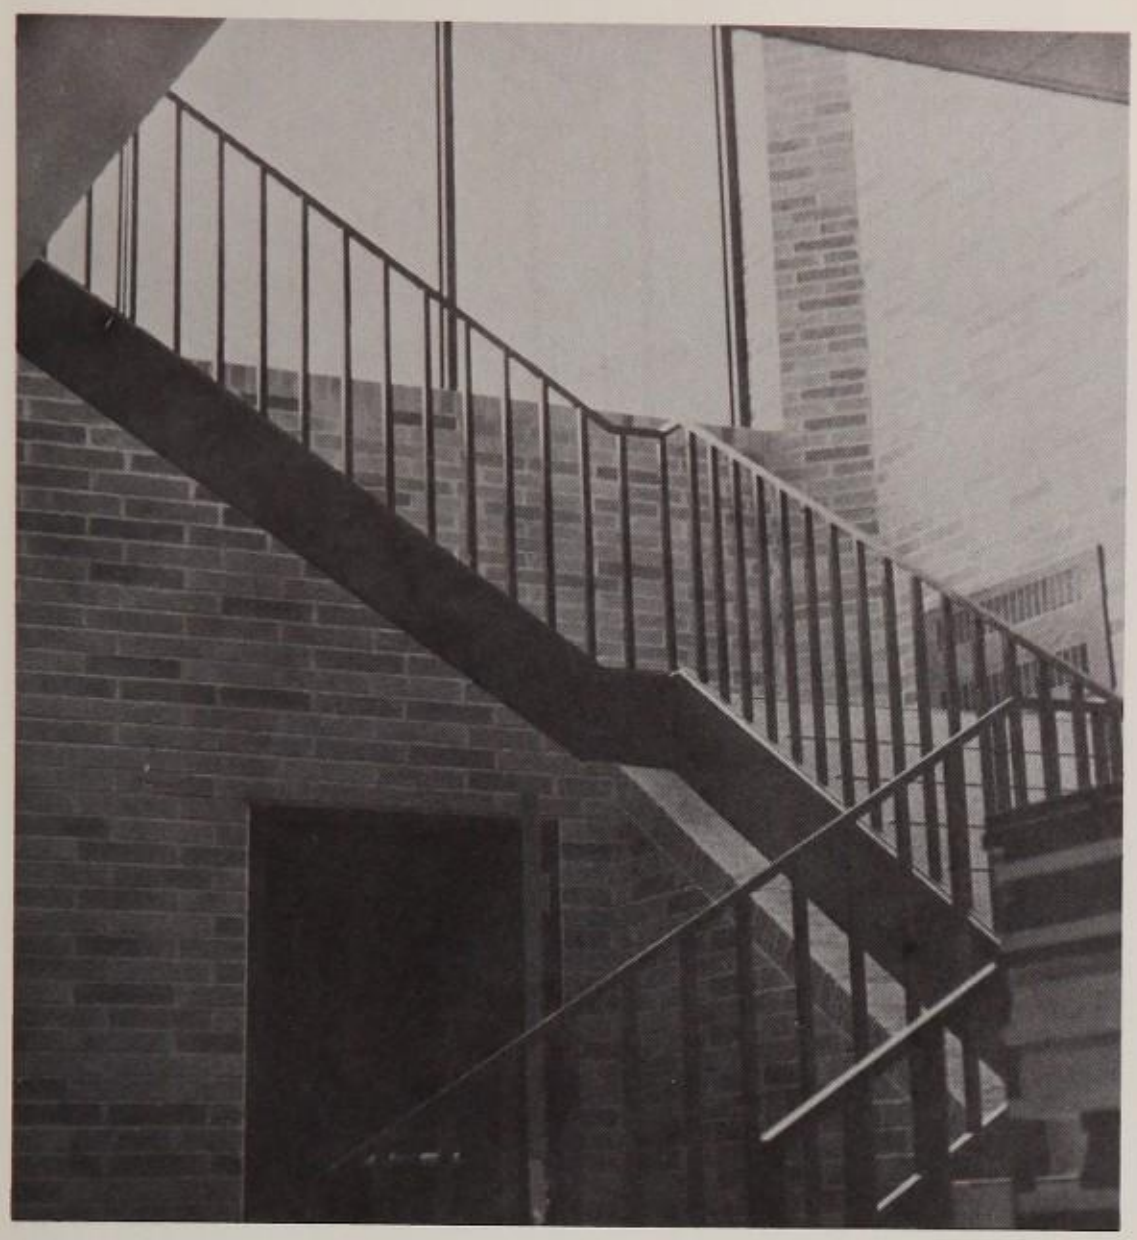
Preceeding his new job at the Drop-In Center, Randy worked as the SODAT director in Grand Blanc for one and a half years. Presently, he is working towards his master's degree at Oakland University. Talking about his new job, Randy commented, "I enjoy working with people. If I didn't, I wouldn't be here."



Clockwise From Right-Although the pool was originally constructed two inches short of regulation size, the error was corrected before the pool was completed. Because the new school contains two stories, students will face this climb daily. The balcony above the student commons enables one to have a full view of the modern architecture found in the school. Supplies cover the floor as workmen ready the commons for the students. The many windows of the student commons provide a wide range view of the nearby woods. Scaffolds, wires and equipment fill the gym.



Completion Ends 22 Month Struggle



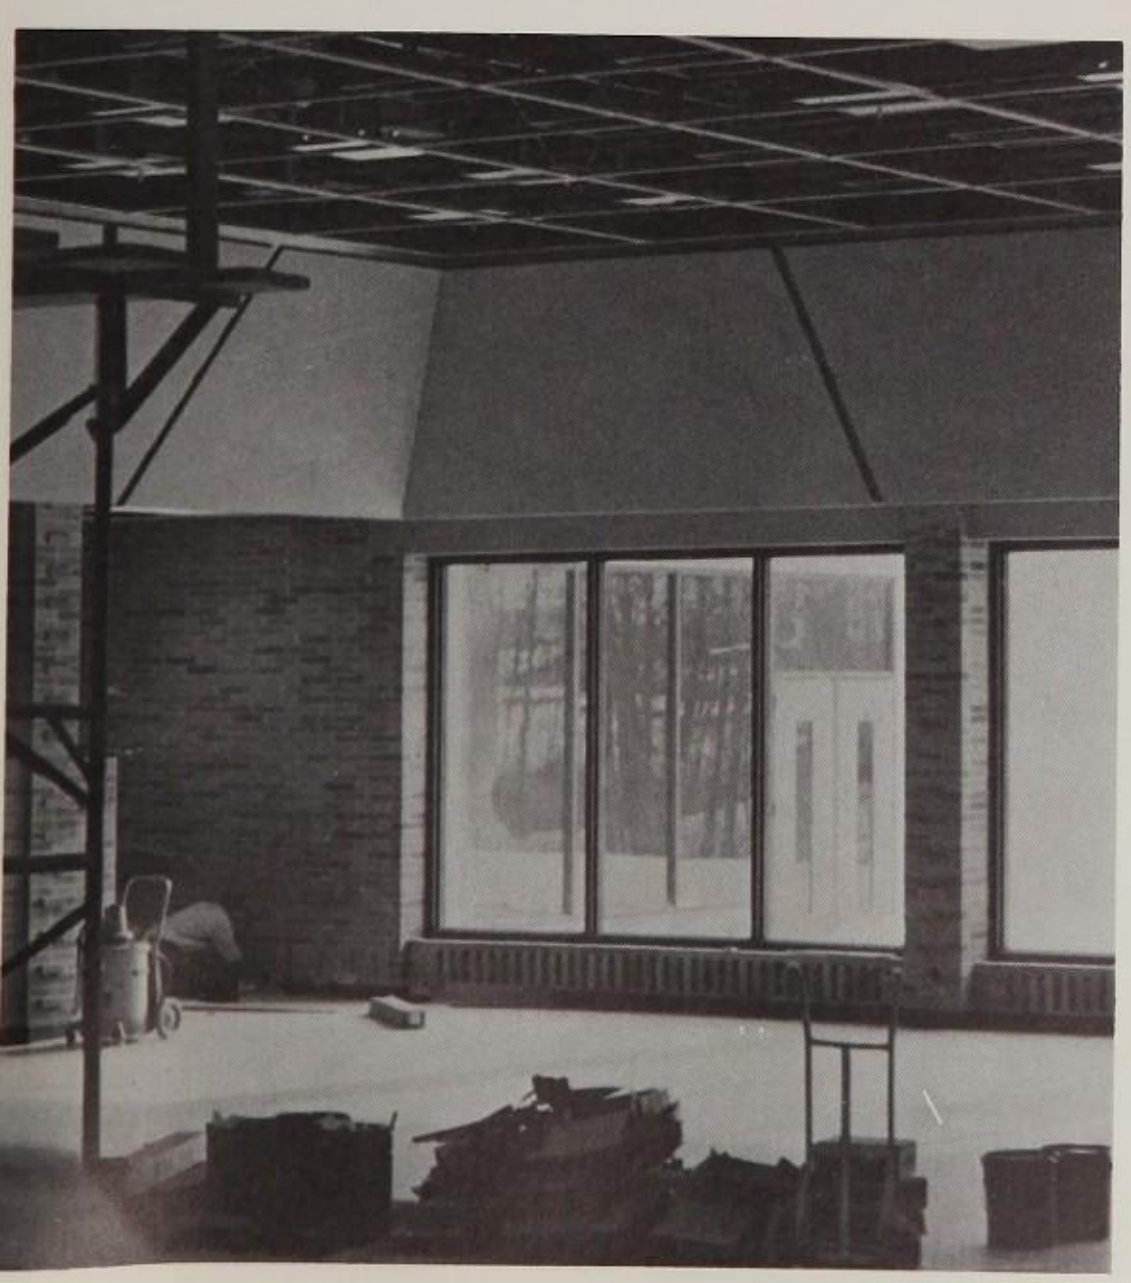
For years the students of Grand Blanc High have gone to school on morning and afternoon sessions. This was concluded on February 16, 1976, when the ninth through twelth graders began attending classes at the same hours. The new program was made possible by the construction of a new high school building. At an estimated cost of $6 million, construction began in April 1974. Because of several setbacks in construction; shortage of equipment, millage defeat, and two worker strikes, the final date of completion was altered.

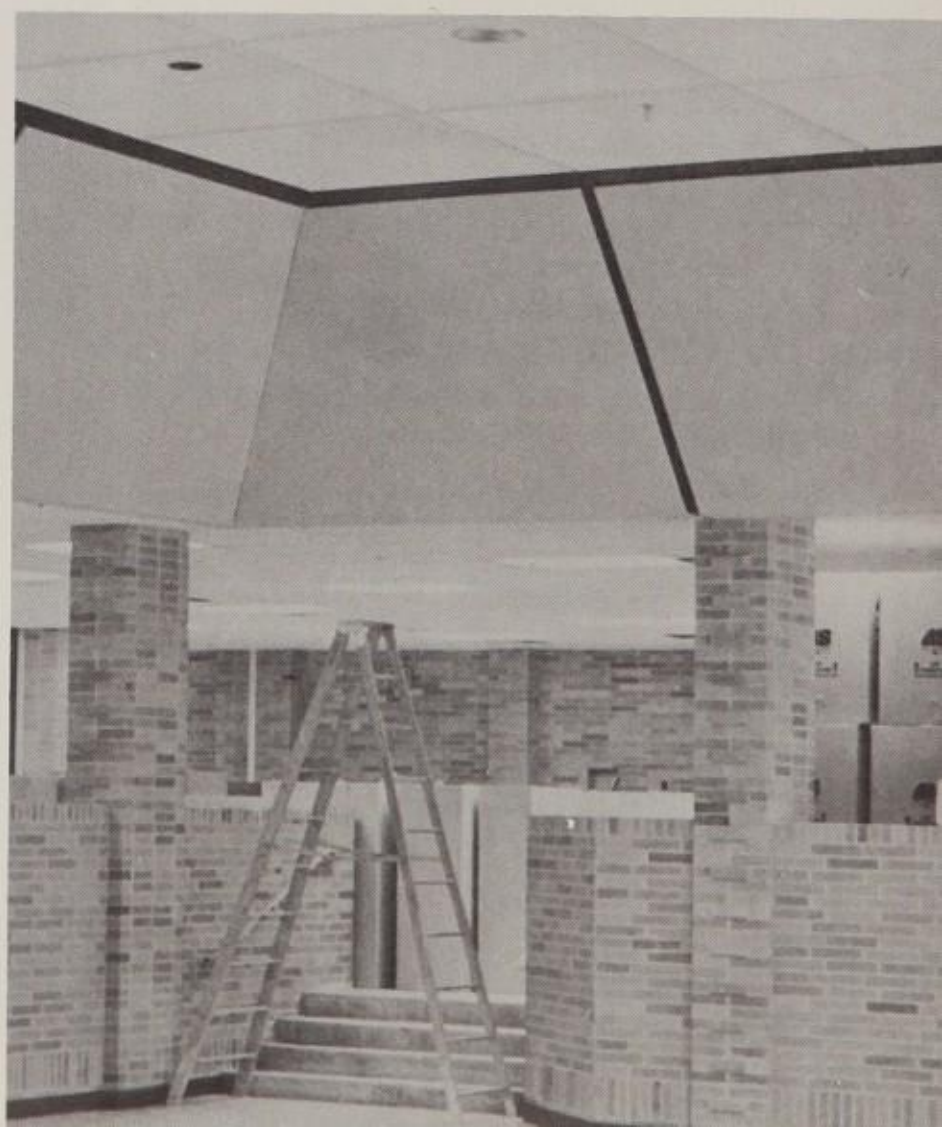
Contained in the two-story building are many new and exciting features including several carpeted rooms, many guidance and counseling rooms, and an elevator to facilitate moving from floor to floor.

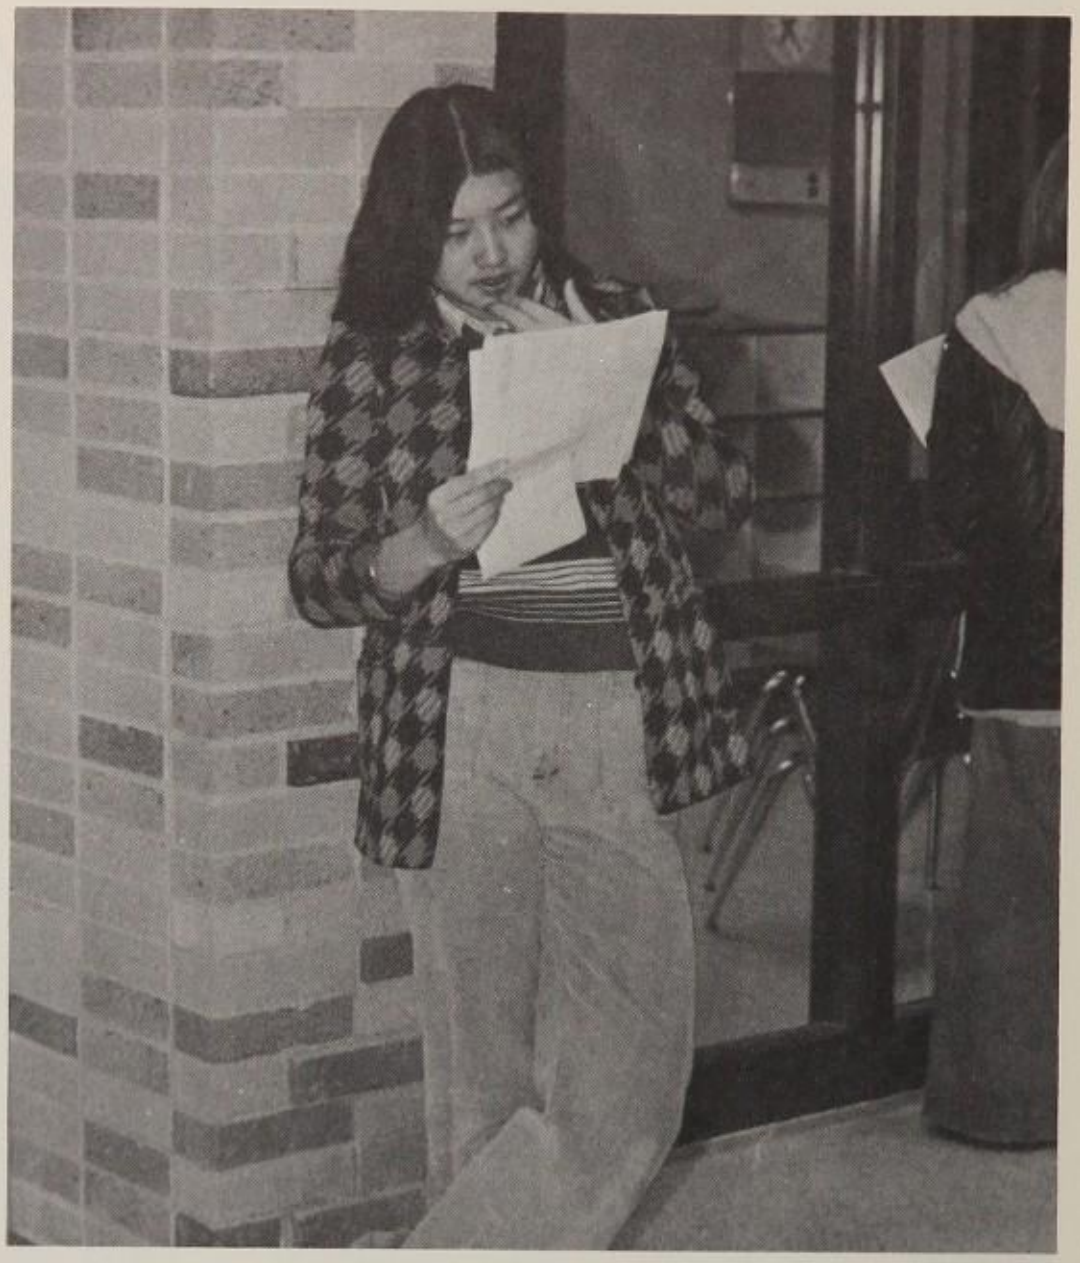
Because of the opening of the school many new teachers were hired. The building will house 40% of the student body.

The most obvious advantage of the new school is space, but Principal Robert Burek feels the most important advantage is the influence of the Upperclassmen on the Freshmen, which he thinks is beneficial.

The administration, faculty, and the students of Grand Blanc High were very excited with the opening of the new school. For the first time in eight years the entire student body attended school at the same time.







Doors Finally Open

Scattered equipment, unfinished rooms, pounding hammers, and odors of paint and varnish greeted students as they entered the new school for the first time. During the opening week, the unfinished lower level made it necessary for many classes to be held in substitute areas. In addition to finding their substitute classes, many students also faced the quarter-mile walk from one building to another, a ten minute trek through mud and water. As a result, Administrators asked students to keep a locker in each building to accommodate books, coats, and umbrellas. With the opening of the new school, students altered their schedules. Freshmen, sophomores, and many teachers adjusted to a 7 a.m. class.

Although the new high school created problems, cooperation between administration, faculty, and students solved them.

Guys Anxiously Await Sadies

Once every year for one week, the guys at GBHS get special attention. During Sadies week, the guys get flowers, candy, crazy gifts, and sometimes a little embarrassed. How would you feel walking around carrying little stuffed animals, or wearing strange outfits? However, the guys eventually get their turn to get back at the girls; planning an all-out torture test for "Slave Day" is the guy's delicacy. Girls have been known to lug around duffle bags packed with encyclopedias. Some gals have had the experience of dragging around a ball and chain attached to their legs! The dance, on February 28, brought Sadies to a close for another year. "August Morn" provided the music to create a dancing atmosphere. The fun that Sadie Hawkin's week brings is often remembered throughout the years of high school. Until the next Sadies week, both guys and girls plan what they intend to do the following year in hopes to have an even better time than they did the year before.

Hands: Means Of Communication

Hands play an important role in the process of communication. They are necessary to express one's feelings and emotions. People talk with their hands. Different hand symbols have different meanings; the emotions of anger, peace, love, frustration, and friendship can all be expressed with the involvement of hands.

Celebrating 200 Years Of Freedom

Bicentennial is approaching and by its arrival we will be exposed to and confronted with symbols of America such as the traditional red, white, and blue, liberty bells, eagles, and flags. The media uses these symbols and many more to keep us reminded of our heritage. Even though we are constantly bombarded with reminders of the past, they promote unity, cooperation, and a sense of pride. We may be weary of these constant reminders but we shouldn't forget that by witnessing our nation's birthday, we are experiencing a once-in-a-lifetime happening.

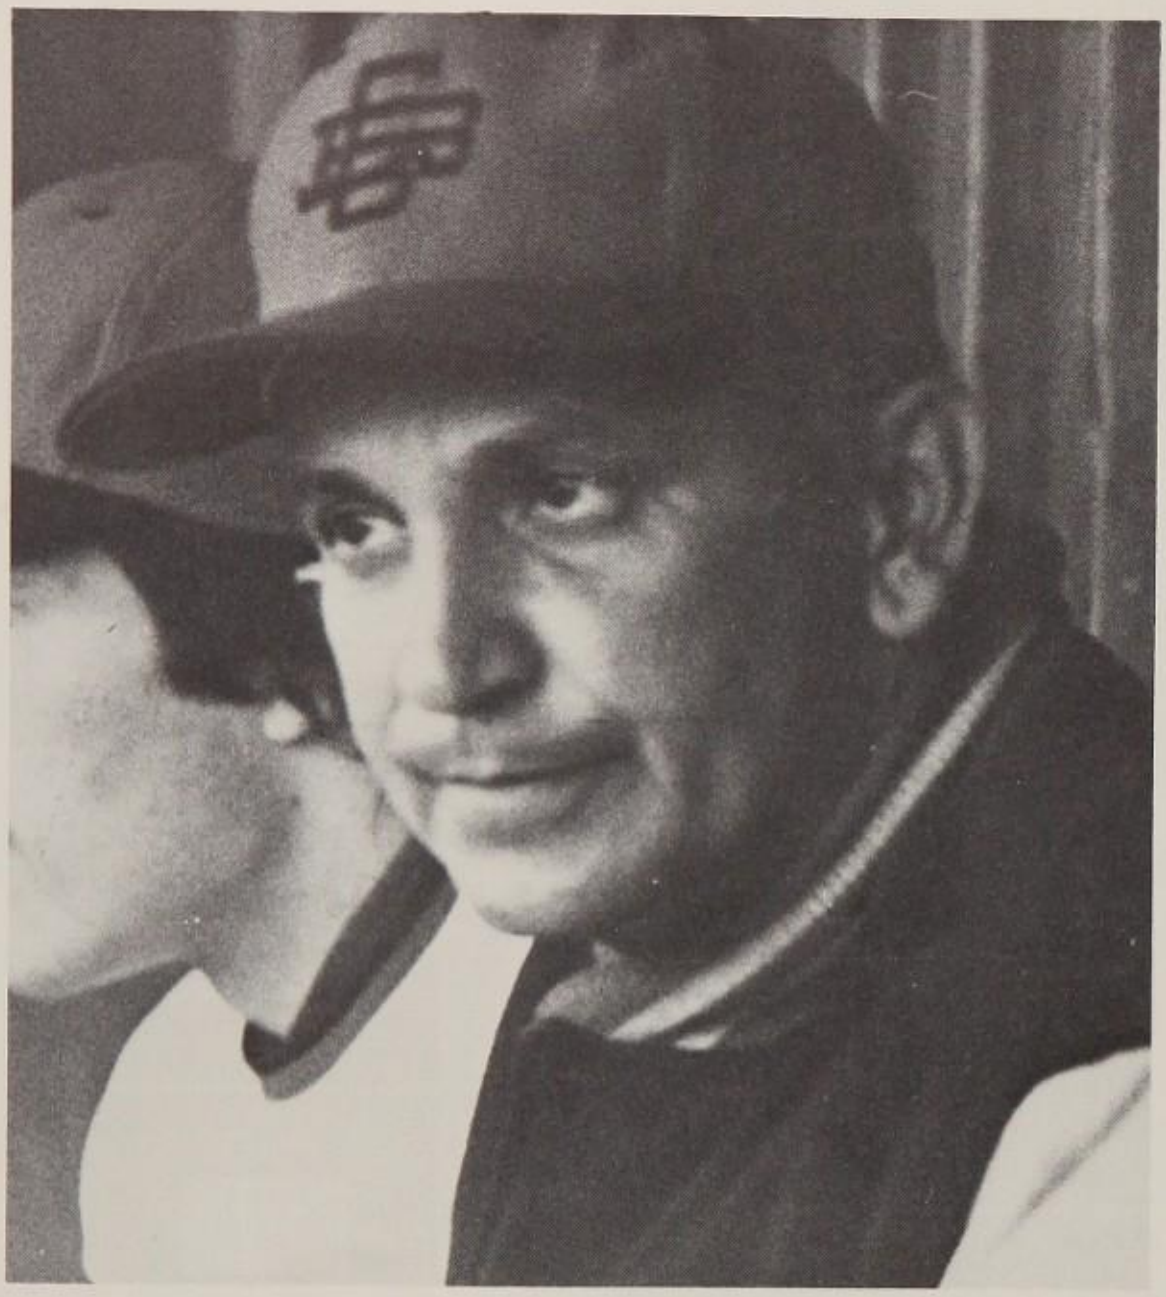
SPORTS

Athletic competition, since its origin in our school system, has been important in the development of moral character, leadership, and team work, as well as physical skill. Beginning with the first competitive sport at GBHS, we have seen drastic changes in the organization of our Athletic Department. Perhaps the most significant decision was the formation of girls' varsity teams, a policy change which would have appalled even the most liberal administrator of yesterday. In addition, the scope of our sports has been widened to include freshman and junior varsity teams. The number of sports has also increased, and now encompasses a range from the traditional football and basketball teams to the more recent additions such as hockey and golf. There is no doubt that sports will play an important part in the schools of tomorrow.

Bobcats Compete For Invitational Title



Dennis L'Hommedieu and Mike Sullivan served as captains of the 1975 Varsity Baseball Team, who finished their season with a 14 win, 8 loss record. Victories over Southwestern, Bentley, and Fenton, came in the final round of the Greater Flint Invitational. Our opponent-Carman. Several days passed before the weather allowed the game to begin. On June 6, 1975, our Bobcats went to Lincoln Park to capture once again the tournament title. The lead was taken and lost throughout the entire game, but going into the seventh inning, our Cats were tied with the Carman Cougars. A pop fly to right field by the opponent had Rick Conquest running fast. It seemed to be a homerun. Conquest ran into the fence, hitting his leg on the steel pole during his pursuit. The ball was still in the park. By the time another player came to Conquest's aid, a Carman player had scored and the game was over, 6 to 5.

There may have been shattered dreams, but our team stood proud while accepting the second place trophies.

This year's most valuable players were pitcher Bill Pemberton, catcher Mike Markiewicz, and outfielder Dan Schloegl. Schloegl's versatility at pitching also won him first team All League. Named to second team All League were pitcher Bill Pemberton, first baseman Andy Pitock, second baseman John McEldowney, shortshop Mike Sullivan, and outfielder Steve Macksood. Pitcher Tom Owens and catcher Mike Markiewicz received honorable mention.

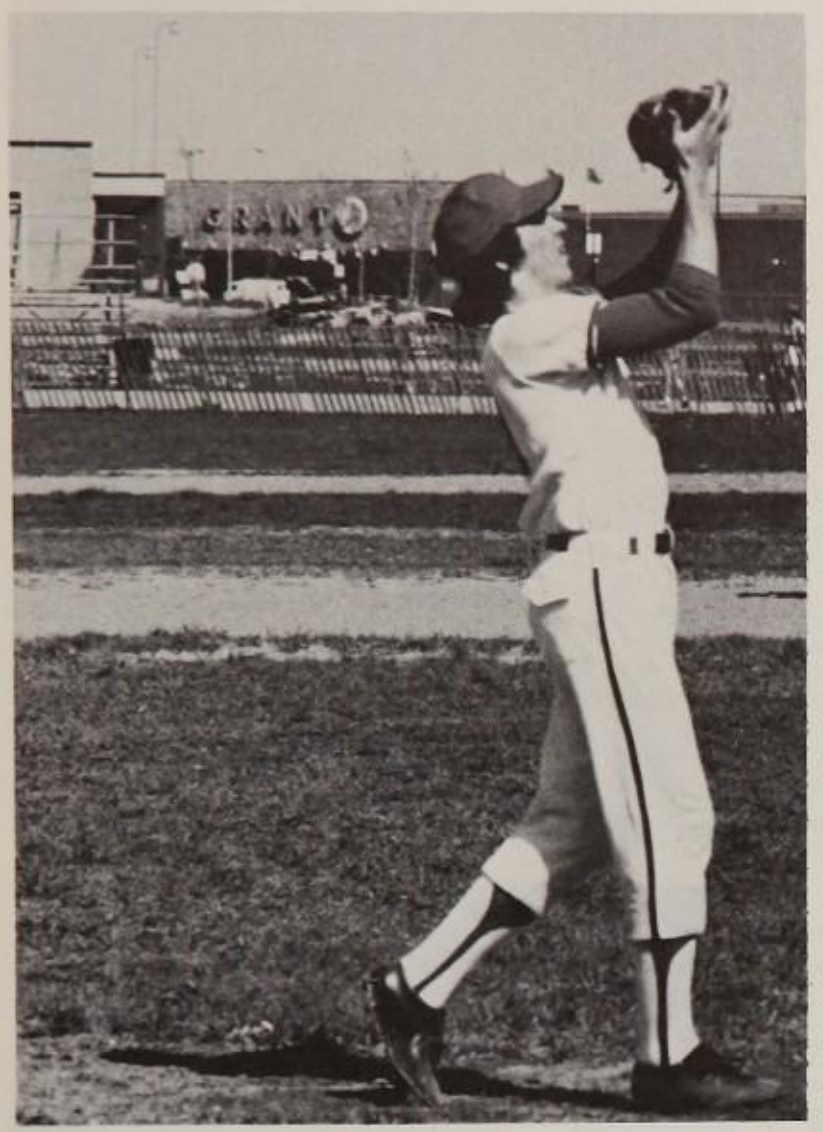
Forfeits Give J.V. Team Their Only Losses



Due to the forfeiting of four games, the J.V. Baseball Team ended their season with a 9 win, 4 loss record. Coach Hal Anderson feels this has been his most successful season during his six year coaching career, due to the cooperation and determination of the team. Leading the team in averages was junior Gary Zittel with a .472. Three team members experienced the pride of hitting a homerun. They were Brian Brandt, Ken Moore, and Gary Zittel. Junior Mike Pittenger led the pitching squad with 4 wins and 0 losses, followed by Brian Edwards with 3 wins and 1 loss. Records established this year were for best team average, most errors, best team pitching, most wins, and fewest losses.

Sophomore Takes Conference Honors

Sophomore captain, Donna Propst, made outstanding athletic contributions to the Girls Softball Team this year. She was named to the first team All Conference, as in the past year. Also named to All Conference positions were catcher Glenda Custer, second team, and pitcher Vickie Smith, who received honorable mention. Smith led the team with her consistent batting, fielding, and hitting. Custer contributed many stolen bases to the team because of base running ability. The team ended their season with 12 wins and 6 losses and a league record of 8 wins and 5 losses.

Trackers Win Spartan Relays

At the close of the 1975 Varsity Track season, Coach Bob Stallcup and his team boasted an undefeated record of 8 wins. Neil LaBelle was the most improved runner and Charles Crouther was named most valuable runner. Pride in the sense of winning was earned by the consistency of the mile relay team; Neil LaBelle, Charles Crouther, Jim Manutes, and Steve Barnes, plus the 880 squad consisting of Steve Barnes, Neil LaBelle, Jim Manutes, and Mike Evans. Charles Crouther set two new league records which were 14.2 for the 120 high hurdles and 19.8 for the 180 low hurdles. This year's team also achieved a victory at the Spartan Relays, a first for G.B.H.S. In the field events freshman Dave Richiger led the shot put by throwing 43'11", and accumulating 30 points. Bob Thibeaudeau vaulted 10 feet for 14 points, and in the high jump Steve Robins and Tom Porwell reached a height of 5'10". Neil LaBelle reached an outstanding distance of 21'11" in the long jump, gaining 27 points. Coach Stallcup and the team working together pushed them into a record of first at league, second at Regional and fifth at state, ending their season.

For the first time since 1971, the J.V. Track Team participated in home meets. Keith Nattrass broke the 440 yard dash record of 54.4, set by Craig English in 1970, with a new time of 54.2 seconds. In the Big Nine Meet, the team had 28 points and a fifth place standing while in the Freshmen Meet, the team took sixth place with points totaling 12. The leading point scorers of the team were Mike Malone-37, Dale McKim-32 ½, Keith Nattrass-30, Neil Baxter-27, and Don Edwards with 25 points.

New to this year's Track Team were the Hurdle Helpers. These eight girls helped to set up the hurdles and also measure yardage for the team. Besides all this, the girls added extra spirit to their team.

Recognition To Netters

The doubles team of John Cornack and Matt Stiltz brought the Varisty Tennis Team it's deserved recognition. Cornack's individual record was 30 wins and 2 losses, while Stiltz's record was 31-5. Hans Frieberg received the "Mr. Steady" award with a record of 29-1. Most Valuable player, Jim Pinchoff had an individual year record of 28-4. In the Regional Tournament, outstanding showings were made by the entire team. Pinchoff was a semi-finalist in the singles competition, while Frieberg and Jeff Pleninger were simi-finalists in the doubles category. Cornack and Stiltz reigned as the double champions in the tournament although eliminated in the State Meet. More awards were presented to John Cornack - "Mr. Hustle", and Jeff Pleninger-Most Improved player.

With a seasons record of 12 wins and 3 losses, the 1975 J.V. Varsity Tennis Team proved to be a hard working group. The team's most outstanding achievement was their complete domination of the Fenton Tournament. Participants were Mike Mason, Jim Davis, Chris Zeppenfeld, Scott Adams, Frank Pfeiffer, Mark Jeffrey, Rich Nemesi, and Denny Krohn; all of whom received medals for being the best at their positions. A total of 31 points were scored out of a possible 35, giving the J.V. netters first place.

In its second year of activity, the Girls Track Team added enthusiasm to their team-work to end their season with many newly established records. Experience from the six returning runners helped the team throughout the season. The year ended with 2 wins, 5 losses, and 1 tie. Tri-captains Kari Sanborn, Cindy Shimmons, and Julie Taylor held the group together through the victories and the defeats. Junior Sue Adcock was named most valuable player with a total of 77½ points. Kari Sanborn set new records in the 100 yard dash and the 220 yard dash. In every event, a new record was set, showing the determination and dedication of the still young team.

Girls Come Together To Form Golf Team

In previous years, girls who desired to play golf as a competitive sport had to try out for the boys team and few ever made it. With the help of coach Judy Clegg, girls grouped together and formed their own golf team. This team, consisting of ten players, competed against six other schools and finished their season with an outstanding 6 win, 1 loss record. The girls went on to play Flushing and Davison in the Big Nine Conference, defeating both teams. With a total of 203 points, the four girls representing the team at the Regionals tied for second place, thus qualifying for the State Meet. Traveling to Battle Creek, Barb Santee, Mary Rabidoux, Barb Kish, and Debbie Settle finished the competition with the low score of 219, capturing fifth place at the meet. At the banquet, sophomore Mary Rabidoux was awarded a trophy for the lowest average of the team-49. Co-captain Barb Santee was awarded for having the lowest score for a match-42.

In honor of the team's fine first season, Mayor Jack Carey proclaimed June 5, 1975, "Girls Golf Day".

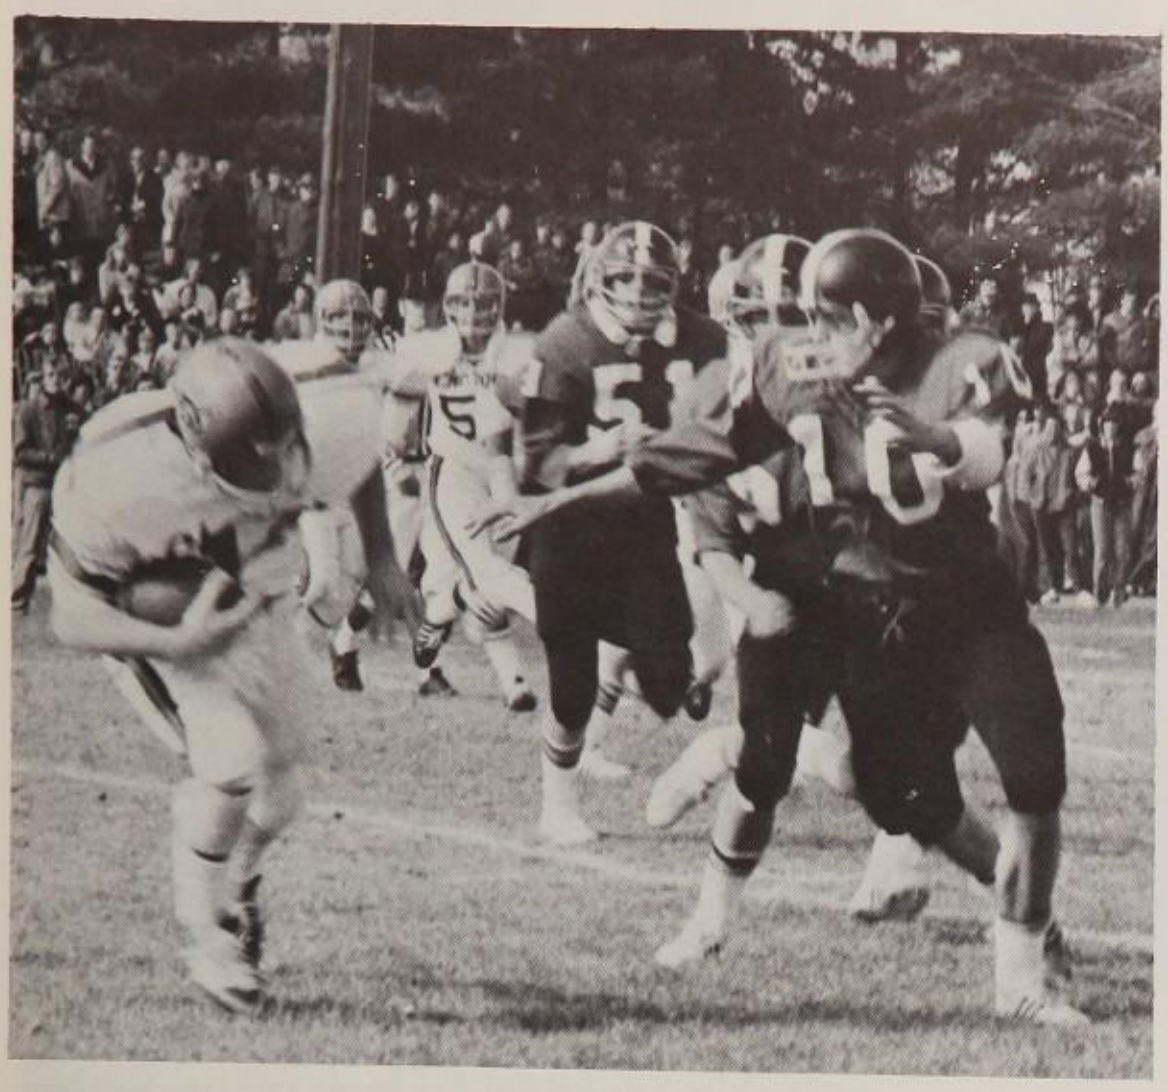
For "Athlete Of The Year"



Of the eight nominated seniors, the coaching staff elected Mike Sullivan to receive the award for "Athlete of the Year." Throughout his four years in high school, Sullivan has participated in football, basketball, and baseball. Wearing the #10 jersey for his last year of participation at Grand Blanc, Sullivan had the honor of being captain of all three of these sports. In football, Sullivan was named to both offensive and defensive first teams in the Big Nine. In basketball, he played guard and was named to the All Conference team. As a shortstop in baseball, Sullivan received further recognition when he was named to the second team All-League.

To be considered for this award, an athlete must have at least a 3.0 grade average, be considered a great athlete by the coaches, and, most importantly, he must have leadership and citzenship qualities. In the fall, Sullivan is now attending Ball State University in Indiana.

Captains Bring League Recognition To GBHS

The Varsity Football Team's tri-captains Steve DeCou, Steve Macksood, and John McEldowney made an outstanding showing in league competition this year. DeCou was named to first team Big Nine as an offensive and defensive tackle. Macksood made second team Big Nine as the offensive and defensive halfback. He was this year's Most Valuable Player as well as leading scorer with an accumulating point total of 44. McEldowney received first team Big Nine recognition for offensive and defensive safety. He was also given honorable mention in All State. McEldowney led the Big Nine in pass interceptions with 7. Quarterback Tom Ranville led the league with 64% pass completions. Harriers Achieve Top Twenty State Finish

On a cold, rainy October day, Cross Country teams from all over the state met at GB Golf Course to declare the winners of the State Meet. Representing our team were Dennis Hinterman, Mike Burchyett, Alan Stefanski, Dale McKim, Sean McVey, and Mike Moore. Running competitively in the meet for the sixth time in the past ten years, Coach Bob Stallcup and the GB Team finished the race with a 16th place, points totaling 370.

The Varsity Cross Country Team finished their season with a 7 wins and 1 loss record. Captains Larry King, Dennis Hinterman, and Mike Burchyett were the leading performers and also the top point scorers for the year. Dale McKim was awarded Most Improved and Dennis Hinterman was named Most Valuable at their annual banquet. In the league, GB had a final tally of second and the Regionals placed the team third.

With a decrease in member participation this year, the 1975 Junior Varsity Cross Country Team still managed to finish with a second place in the "Four League" Meet held at Holly Greens, and a season record of 6 wins and 1 loss. Mike Moore broke the all time freshman record with a time of 16:25.5. Moore was also leading scorer with Rick Collard.

Two Swimmers Ranked Among State Top Ten

A new Varsity Swim Team record was set this year by the 200 yard medley relay team of Larry Leake, Kevin Olds, Mike Toole, John Tremblay, and the newly established time was 1:43.692. In the diving category, captain Pat McFadden also set a varsity record with 290.05 points. On commenting on this year's team, Coach Hal Anderson said, "that this started off as a rebuilding year, but the boys worked so hard that they soon became one of GBHS's best teams." McFadden was ranked among the Top Ten in the State, plus, he qualified for All-American. Leake was the recipient of Michigan's Top Ten Award.

This year's Junior Varsity Swim Team gained added experience with the help of first year coach, Craig Oldham. Sophomores Mike Toole and David Tremblay were the top performers of the team along with Paul Quinlan, Henry Lowendick, and Joe Baydl. Next year, Coach Oldham hopes to extend the junior varsity schedule to include Detroit area schools, because of their activity in dual meets.

Laura Dinan Rates In State Top Ten

This year's Girls' Swim Team qualified eight girls for the State Meet. From Sue Urich, Ann Urich, Colleen O'Malia, Tracy Titus, Kari Bandurski, Laura Dinan, Laura Stormzand, and Kristi Morgan, one swimmer was rated in the State Top Ten-Laura Dinan. She received this honor for swimming the 500 yard freestyle. Dinan was also a quad-captain and the year's Most Valuable Swimmer. Coach Hal Anderson awarded quad-captain Pegi Walker as "Miss Spirit." Walker, along with being a top performer of the season, established a new diving record. The 100 yard breaststroke record was broken by Colleen O'Malia. Laura Dinan set seven individual records and participated in two relay teams, the 200 yard medley and the 400 yard freestyle, of which also established new records. Kari Bandurski was the team's Most Improved Swimmer. The girls concluded their season with an outstanding record of 14 wins and 1 loss, being defeated by Ann Arbor Pioneer.

District Title

For the first time in GBHS sports history, a District Title was brought back to the Bobcat den with the defeat of three teams. On Tuesday, March 9, 1976, our team went to Flint IMA to battle Northwestern, where they were defeated and eliminated from Regional competition. League recognition was extended to four cagers. Co-captain Dan Schloegl was honored with first team Big Nine Conference, while Leon Page received second team. Honorable Mention went to Eric Simmons and co-captain John McEldowney. Schloegl was the team's Most Valuable Player while also being the leading scorer with 358 seasonal points. Page led the team's rebounding and was the second leading scorer with 347 points. For Coach Leon Moore, this was the first year of coaching a varsity team and he feels that "this group is very close knit," which enabled them to win consistently.

J.V. Cagers Use Experience To Win

With an outstanding seasonal record of 16 wins and 3 losses, the Junior Varsity Cagers concluded their year of activity. Leading scorers of the team were Brian Edwards, Jeff Coon, Kent Utter, Steve Swatzel, and Rob Leadley. Coach Hugh Terrell commented on this team as being "extremely talented and having the ability to play as a team without individual stars."

This year's Freshmen Basketball Team, concluded their season with 9 wins and 7 losses. Jim DeCou, Jim Shaw, Mike Wujciak, Rick Brochu, Todd Mirsky, and Bill Kornegay, besides being leading performers, were also the high point scorers throughout the year. The team's Most Improved Player was Tom Hanzek.

With the shift of the basketball coaches this year, Coach Terrell moved up to a Junior Varsity coaching position and Coach Ray Simmonds was able to take over the job of coaching the Freshmen squad.

Bobkittens Work Together To Win

Team spirit and togetherness provide the key to this year's Varsity Girls' Basketball Team, as they concluded their season with a 14 win and 4 loss record. Vicki Smith, for the second consecutive year, was named to the first team All Conference League. Laurie Shimmons received second team All Conference League and Karin Clark received Honorable Mention. The team's leading performer was Vicki Smith who averaged 17 points and 10 rebounds per game. Laurie Shimmons maintained a 15 point and 10 rebound average throughout the season.

Coach Claire Gentile's Junior Varsity Bobkittens finished their 9-7 season with a final defeat against Davison with a score of 17 to 31. Team statistics include high scorer Bridget Ignace with 112 total points and Kim Moeller's points totaling 61. Ignace once again led the team as high rebounder with 118. Mary Donaldson scooped down 90 rebounds. Co-captain Marsha Martin scored on 50% of all free throws.

Summer Clinic Inspires Enthusiasm

On a warm summer day, GBHS Varsity Cheerleaders can be found working on routines for competition. This summer camp session not only helps the girls learn new cheers, but also allows them to excel over the other school groups in the various categories of competitive action. To raise money for this expedition, all squads participated in a shoe shine previous to Christmas break. This year's Pom Pon squad doubled in size to offer a diversity in their musical routines. Besides attending basketball games, they also provided entertainment and enthusiasm to the Girls' Volleyball matches.

As a small rural community, Grand Blanc's early organizations, such as 4-H and Future Farmers, placed great emphasis on farm-related activities and projects. Because many students were needed at home for after-school chores, it was not possible for everyone to become involved in extra-curricular activities. Just as academics and athletics broadened, so did organizations. Now there is an organization for almost every interest. From foreign languages, chess, and Thespians, to the still popular 4-H and Future Farmers, almost every student becomes involved in at least one club during his four years at GBHS. When the high school was forced to have two shifts, clubs suffered. Meetings could no longer be held in the afternoons. To compensate for scheduling problems, some clubs held evening meetings and some became courses in which students receive academic credit. With the opening of the new school, we look forward to a more "normal" day, in which even more activities can be held.

Council Links Student Body And Administration

Student Councils have been subject to the question "What have done for me?" This year, the Student Council was active in the Homecoming Events, STP Carnival, and numerous dances and assemblies. In addition to these annual events, the Student Council created the new Gripe Sessions, which offered students an opportunity to voice their opinions and ideas to the Student Council.

In trying to serve as the link between the student body and the administration, the Student Council employed new Parliamentary Procedures to cut red tape. With one of the largest and most active groups ever, the Student Council has begun questioning various school policies, including the athletic and attendance codes, and encouraged greater student participation. The Council also served the community by involving itself in Beautification League and Board of Education Projects along with a Halloween Party at McGrath Junior High and a local Blood Drive.

In Speech Contests

This year the 1975-76 Grand Blanc High School Debate team had "another fantastic debate season" stated Advisor Mr. Larry McQueen. Varsity Debaters led the team with a second place in the Genesee County Debate League. Debaters who received speaker honors for their league performance were Seniors Greg Kost, Rusty Titus, John Stork, and Junior Phil Roos.

Not to be out done by the Varsity, the Junior Varsity also captured second place in the league. Receiving speaking awards were Seniors Dave Longroy, Mark Silverthorn, Lori Woolman, and Jana Groom, a Sophomore. The ability of these two teams placed their overall record on top of the rest of the league and netted them nine league trophies.

The Debate team also netted ten tournament trophies by traveling to Southfield-Lathrup, Royal Oak Kimball, Warren Woods, and the Genesee Debate Festival. A very determined Advisor Larry McQueen was proud of the fact that the Debate team has such a strong novice program and is sure of success in the future for Grand Blanc's teams.

For the second year in a row the Flint V.F.W. Post 822 offered students the opportunity to participate in the Annual V.F.W. "Voice of Democracy" Speech Contest. This year saw twenty-seven Grand Blanc High School students taking part in the event by preparing and recording speeches of four to five minutes in length, in response to the theme "What Our Bicentennial Heritage Means to Me."

Students who participated in the contest included: Steve Castle, Scott Field, Jon LaFalce, Jason Zarins, Wayne Blosser, Mike Daenzer, Randy Duthorn, Jason Joseph, Virgil Lecea, Mark Marroso, Kim McFadden, Karen Vanitvelt, Matt York, Debbie DesJardins, Jane Harper, Tracy McFadden, Lisa Davis, David Longroy, Lori Woolman, Jeff Raphelson, Jim Combest, Eileen Edwards, Patti Kalanquin, Rusty Titus, Tammy Lewinski, Jan Bull, and Holly Bertrand.

Senior Steve Castle finished in third place, Juniors Eileen Edwards and Kim McFadden, tied for second place, and Senior Rusty Titus took top honors. Awards included trophies and savings bonds.

The first place qualified Titus for further competition in the 10th V.F.W. "Voice of Democracy" district, which included eleven area high schools. Titus again took top honors and qualified for state competition.

Forensics Team Excels

The Forensic Team formed for students who want to compete in speaking events, was sponsored again this year by Mr. Larry MacQueen. Divided into nine categories: Girl's Extemporaneous, Boy's Extemporaneous, Humorous Interpretation, Serious Interpretation, Informative Speaking, Girl's Oratory, Boy's Oratory, Story Telling and Radio News, the team practiced each day after school in preparation for tournaments. GB students showed well in the Holly Invitational, East Detroit Invitational, and the Sterling Invitational. Following these successful tournaments, they hosted the State District Forensic Festival at the East Campus.

The team consisted of twenty-two students, all of whom made a fine showing in their respective categories.

Thespians Sponsor 'Subterfuge'

The Thespians is a group of people who are interested in the field of drama. Always involved in plays, they help with props, makeup, lighting, tickets and programs, and of course, acting.

Thespians are involved in other things besides plays. They sponsored a Football Gamble in September, went to Garden City, Michigan, in October for a Regional Thespian Conference and in November they held an All-School Revue. In March, Thespians were involved in a musical and a State Conference, and many Thespians were also a part of an All-School Play in May. In June, an International Conference was held, which many of the Thespians attended.

"Subterfuge", also sponsored by the group, was originally a mime troupe, but this year divided into two divisions; a mime and children's theatre unit.

Journalists Push For Success

Of Echo, Banner

New Banner Advisor, Mr. Larry Stotz, hoped to make many new improvements in the school newspaper, and double its circulation.

The sale of candy canes before Christmas and snow cones in the spring are some of the activities planned by the staff to help finance the Banner.

Each of the staff members helps publish the school newspaper to keep us informed of what is happening in and around the school. Jane Tamraz, Editor-in-Chief, and Managing Editor George McEwen set the pace for the rest of the class. While the class publishes the newspaper they are acquainting themselves with journalistic techniques. The staff members will leave The Banner with the first-hand knowledge of the ups and downs of the newspaper business.

The 1976 Echo staff is kept working hard by Editor Trish Refo and Assistant Editor Peter Rachor.

During the year the Echo staff scheduled, ran and distributed the underclass pictures. The money used in making the yearbook comes from yearbook sales and advertisements solicited from local businesses.

In the actual production of the book many hours are spent in and outside of class. Picking out pictures and making balanced layouts are just a small part of producing the yearbook. For each spread, a paragraph known to yearbook staffers as "copy" must be written. It must be grammatically correct, and long or brief enough to fit its assigned space on the page exactly. In addition, all information contained in the copy must be pertinent and interesting.

Although a lot of work goes into the yearbook and many hours spent producing it, the rewards of being on Echo staff equal the inconveniences. One of those rewards is the pride a staff member experiences when he is able to look at "The Book" and say "That's mine, I did that!" Another advantage of the yearbook staff is that one becomes introduced to a profession. The Echo is a small business in itself and staff members find themselves adopting a whole new vocabulary, acquiring technical knowledge and making decisions involving large amounts of money. Above all, the most challenging thing of being an Echo staff member is accepting the responsiblity for the success of the yearbook in each student's eyes.

Largest Turnout Ever For French Club

French Club advisor Mr. William Young was pleased to say, "there was a large turn out at the first meeting and we are expecting a good year."

Meeting on the 3rd Monday of every month, each student comes with the eagerness to learn more about French culture.

On October 2, members met in the teachers lounge to feast on different French dishes they prepared themselves.

They also send Christmas presents to an Orphanage in Belgium.

Money raising projects include selling perfume and milk chocolate candy bars in November.

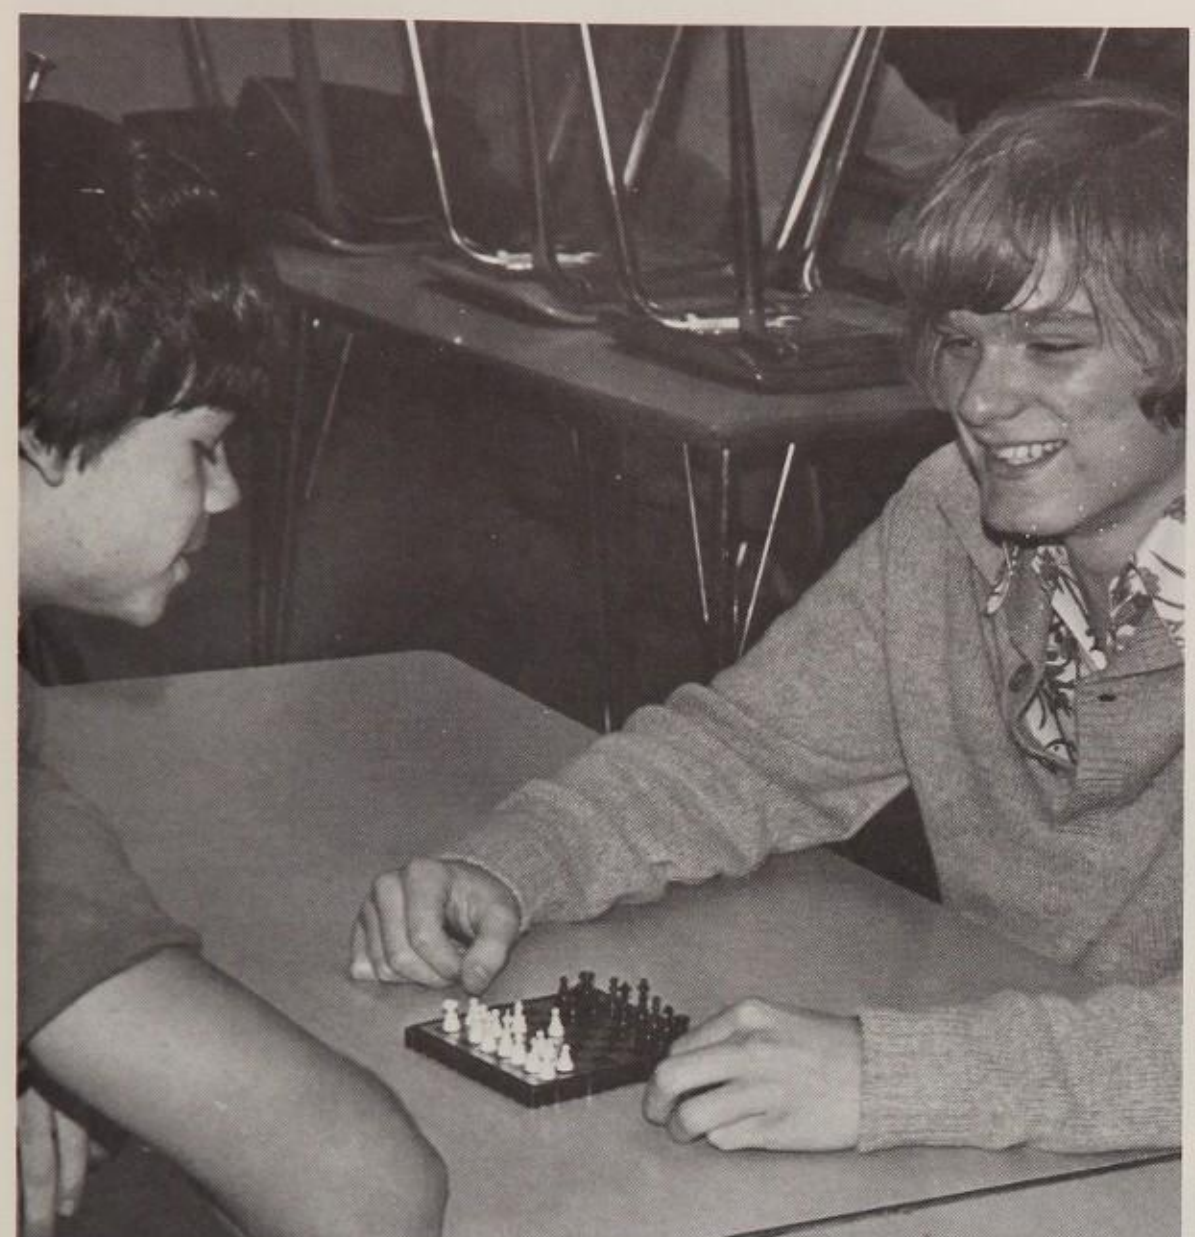
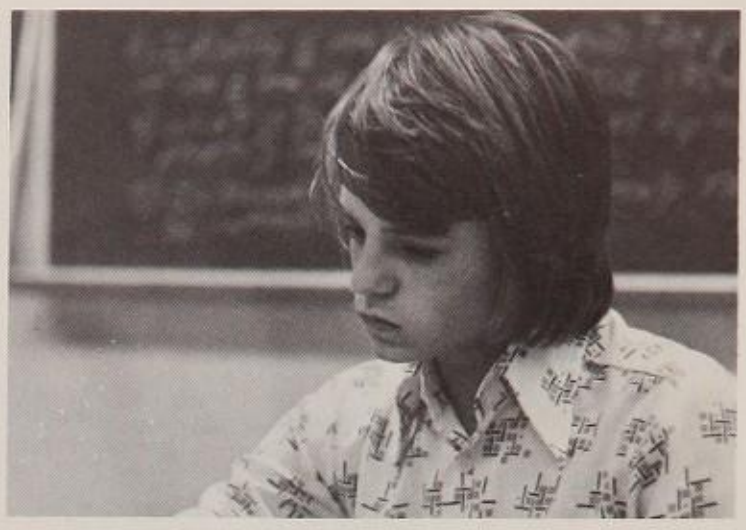
GB Chessmen: Check, Mate





Chess is a very complicated game to most people, but to the 12 dedicated G.B.H.S. "Chessmen", it is a fascinating game requiring great skill. It takes a lot of concentration and carefully calculated moves to be successful. The Chess Club played on Thursdays at 7:00 P.M. in room 111J. They are members of the expanded Inter-County Chess League, renamed this year from the Genesee County Chess League. The Chess Club played in several Chess Tournaments. Advisor Mr. James VanWormer has produced a fine team which enjoys the mental gymnastics chess requires.

Everybody asks, "What does a Police Cadet do." A Police Cadet does all sorts of things from riding in the cruiser to patroling Athletic Events, and all sorts of odd jobs for the Township Police and the school. The Cadets were active this year with field trips to Bridgeport State Police Crime Lab, Lansing and Jackson Prisons. Meetings are Tuesday night, 7:00, in room 222 at which time the cadets are inspected by their captain to make sure their uniforms are in top shape. Several guest lecturers have spoken to the cadets about various aspects of law enforcement such as finger printing, military police, F.B.I., State Police and drugs.

Knowledge And Skills Go To Work

Teaching students the ins and outs of big business so that they may become successful in life is what Junior Achievement is all about.

Companies meet four times a week to work on various products, including T shirts, necklaces and string projects. Once a month, a board meeting is held, led by the company president.

Students sell their products at Trade Fairs. Booths were set up at Genesee Valley shopping center on the 14-15 of November. Each company did its best to sell products, and the best booths received awards.

Club Members Visit Henry Ford Museum

This year's Power Mechanics Club offered members an expanded knowledge of engines and mechanical operations. Members also used the time to work on school projects. Meetings were held every Tuesday, directed by President Luke Saylor, Vice-President Bill Meinhold, and Business Manager Mike Huebler. Activities included attending various auto shows and a trip to Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum. To finance these projects the club held a super car wash. For ten dollars a piece, they washed, waxed, and thoroughly cleaned the cars, inside and out. In all, the club hoped to make about $300.

FFA,4-H Develop Better Way Of Life

Sponsored again this year by Mr. Joe Jewett, the main purposes of Future Farmers of America and 4-H are to develop a better way of life, strong leadership, loyalty and cooperation. The 4-H club has regular meetings during the fall and winter months run by President Gary Sifferman, Vice President Joy Morgan, Secretary Kathy Schumaker and Treasurer David Barber. Getting the year off to a good start on September 23, the 4-H club went down to Michigan State to watch the Spartans play North Carolina.

FFA has meetings once a month and special meetings when decisions must be made. The officers are: Larry Pratt; President, Steve Conquest, Vice President, Keith Storey; Secretary, Robert Taylor; Treasurer. Among many other activities, the FFA constructed a float for the Saginaw Fair. The FFA is divided into eleven sections; Supervised Agriculture, Cooperation, Community Service, Leadership, Earnings, Savings, Conduct of Meeting, Scholarship, Recreation, and Public Relations. Some of their many activities included constructing and selling plants and terrariums, taking care of the light courts, cooperating with the Grand Blanc Beautification League, aiding in the preparation of Christmas baskets for the needy, and conducting Parliamentary Procedure Business meetings.

From Ballets To Budweiser, Band Plays It All

This year's Homecoming activities, and especially the victorious football game, could not have been complete without the band. They aided in the spirit needed and provided music for all. Most of the people who are in marching band are from the varsity band. "The varsity band represents the school and community in all public performances as in parades, contests, concerts, and football games," says Mr. David Ryan, director. Certainly a band of this size must be difficult to direct, and Mr. Ryan must be commended for his ability.

No Flats, Just G.B. Sharps

The band classes' educational objective is to teach all phases of music. This is Mr. David Ryan's job. As instructor of the bands, he must be alert to make sure no one is hitting a B flat when they should be playing a C sharp. Starting in the second semester, with the opening of the new school, a wind ensemble was formed. This is an advanced band of only very good players. For the senior band players, they will have the memory of being a big part of Grand Blanc High School by being in the band. Therefore, they know, from ballets to Budweiser, they can play it all.

GB Choirs Combine Singing

The A'Cappella and Chamber Choirs have really been kept on their toes this year, with the many concerts they have performed. They work for hours practicing in the choir room under the direction of Mr. Doug Shaffer.

Starting in November, the Choirs held a Thanksgiving Concert at Grand Blanc High School and then went on to a combined concert with Olivet College. In December, they journeyed to Heidelberg College in Tiffen, Ohio, to sing the Messiah and then held a Christmas Concert at Holy Family Church. Also, for a concert, they traveled to Central Michigan University in February. In March, they went to an exchange concert in Cleveland, Ohio, at Menton High School. The Choirs were also involved in the Spring Musical and Spring Concert.

Aside from singing in concerts the Choirs had a Halloween party and ski party.

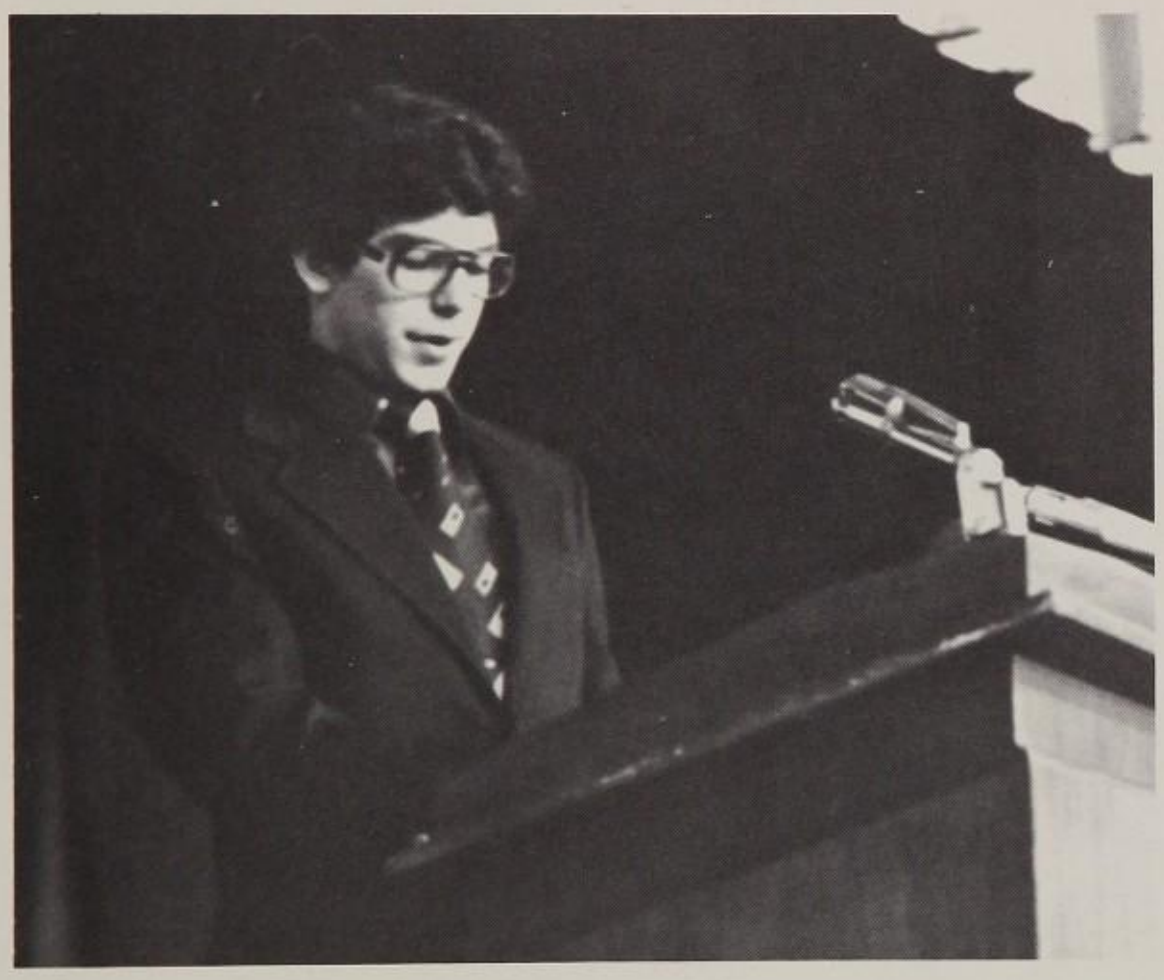
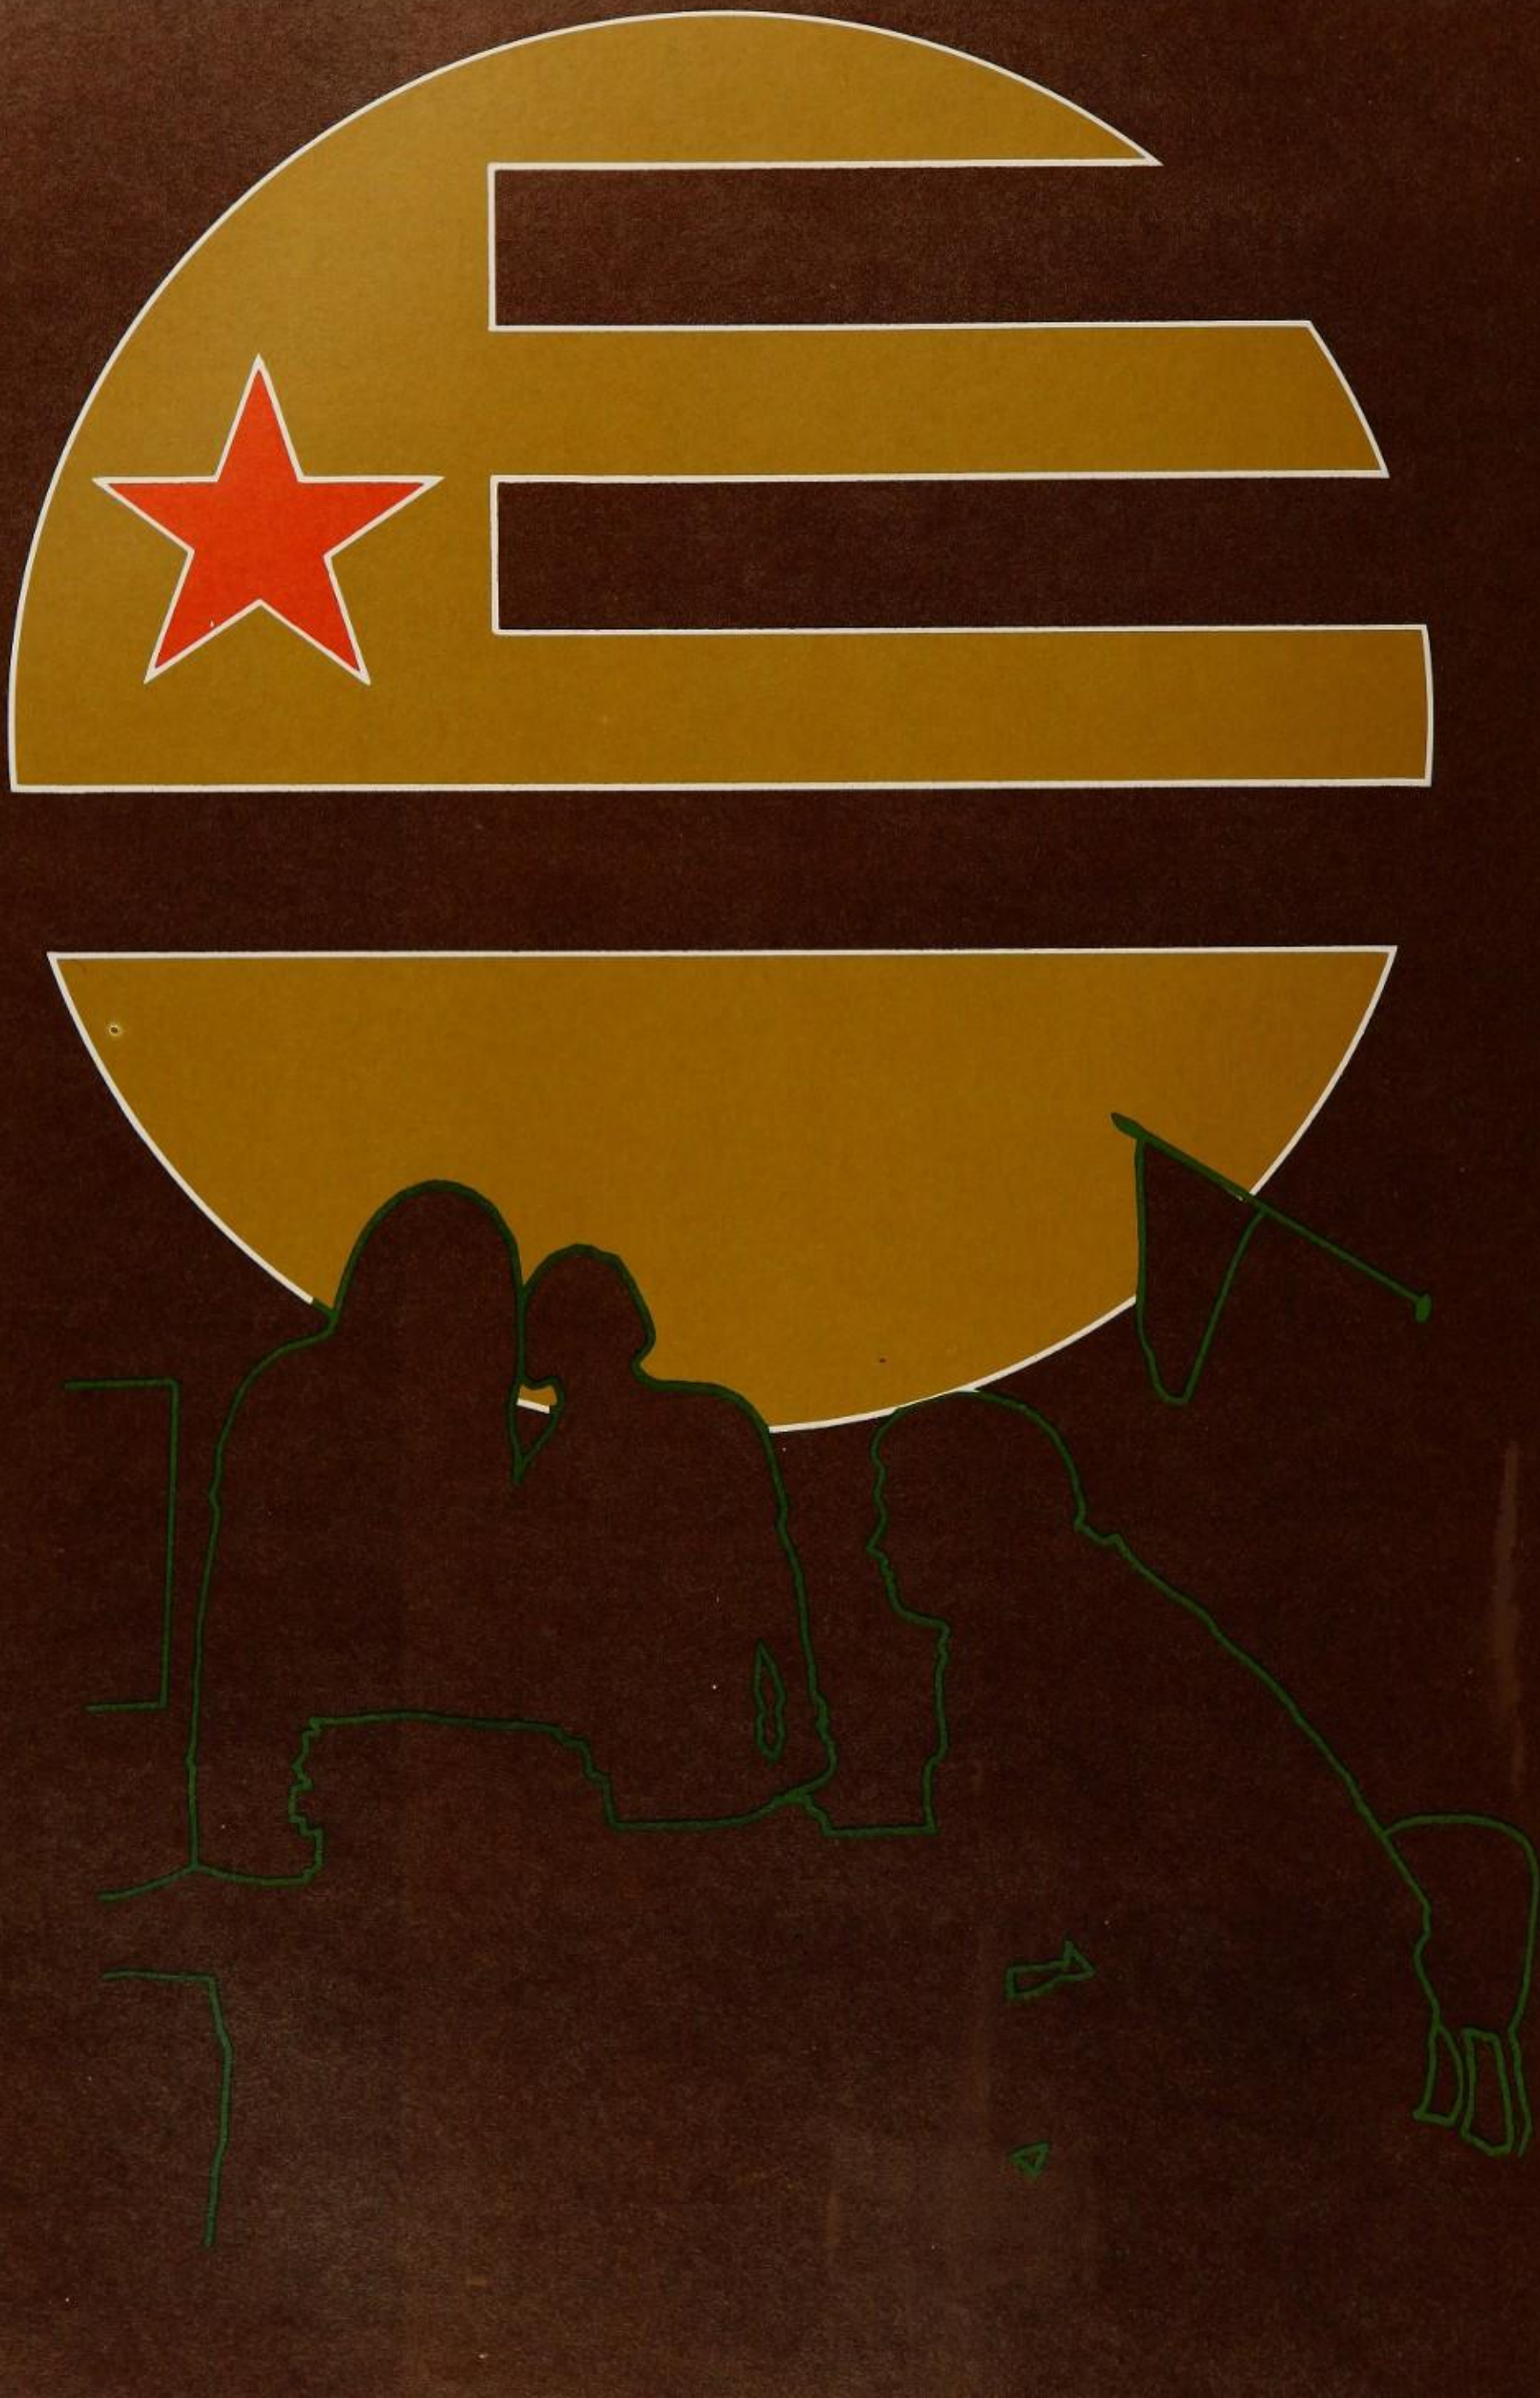
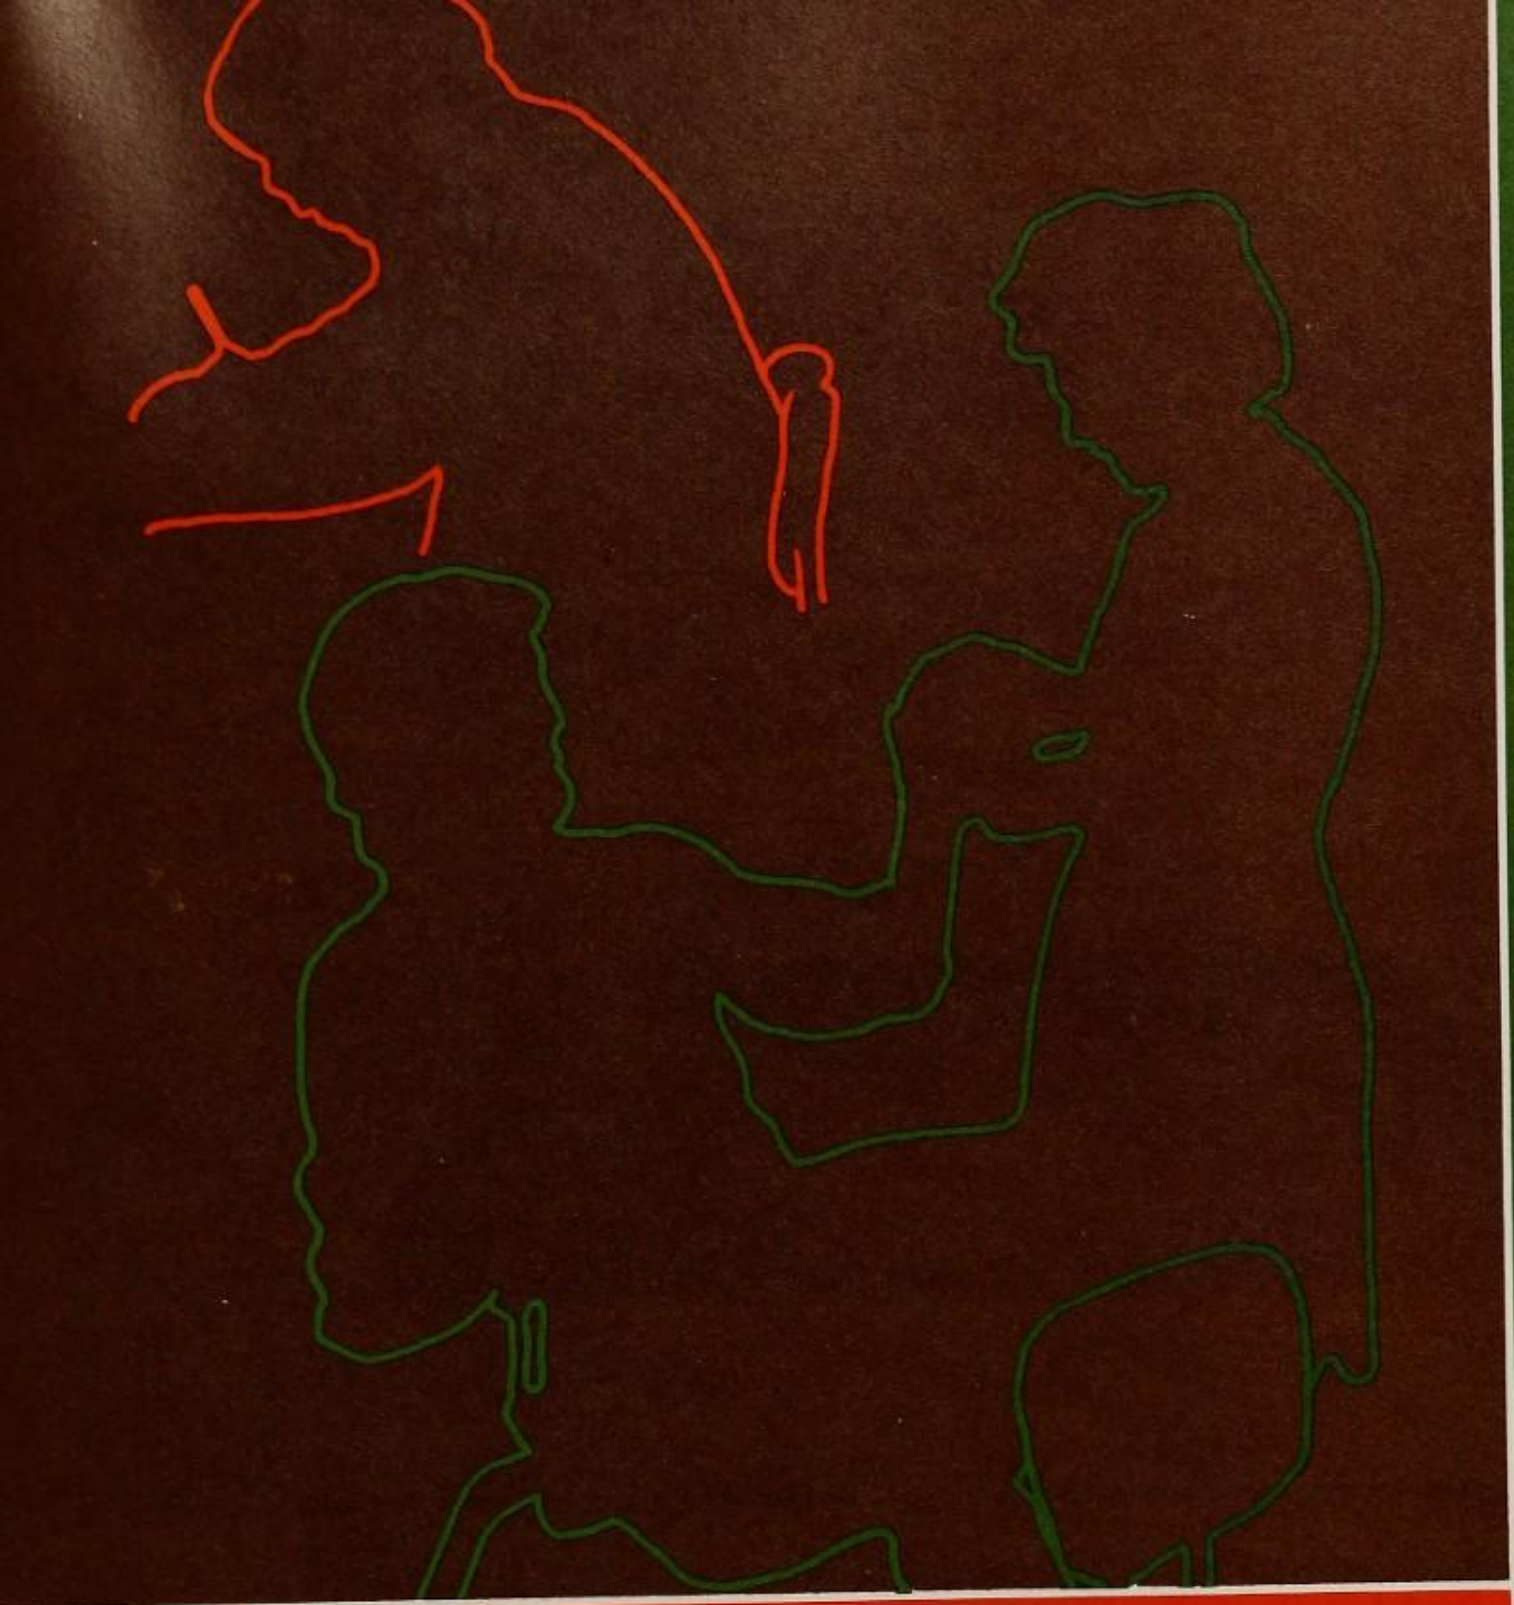
NHS Makes Money With Mums

The National Honor Society provides service to the school and community. The annual induction was held March 11, at the Howard Pepper Auditorium. Ninety-five students which included sophomores, juniors, and seniors were inducted at the ceremonies. These students were nominated by the faculty at GBHS on the basis of scholastic achievement, leadership, character, and service.

Sponsored by Mr. Jack Webster, the Honor Society sold white mums with red and black ribbons around the stem and gold G.B. initials on top of the flower at Homecoming. On Halloween they collected money for Unicef.







ACADEMICS

Most of us grew up with legend-like stories of one room schoolhouses in which a single teacher instructed up to twelve grades at a time. In Grand Blanc, as in many other communities, this legend was a reality in bygone days. The essentials of "reading, writing and 'rithmatic" with occasional history and geography were the entire curriculum in such schools. As one room schools developed into separate classrooms for each grade, the course offerings also became more specialized. Today, in order to prepare students for a technologically advanced society, classes such as Physics, Trig, and Algebra are all but required for the college bound. Probability and Statistics, Private Pilot's Ground School, and Electronics are other examples of courses tailored to meet the needs of today's student. Computer Programming is also offered, and it is fast becoming a necessity to operate a computer. Many of tomorrow's classes will employ the computer as a teaching aid, if not as the actual teacher.

Computer Seminar Adds To Selection

Math is everything from addition and subtraction to square roots and differential equations. Grand Blanc math students can choose algebra, computer seminar, geometry, trigonometry, or any class offered no matter their age or grade.

Computer Seminar is a new course, now in its second year at GBHS, taught by Mr. Larry Taylor. Students learn how to program a computer by using a special terminal in the math wing.

Although math isn't everyone's favorite subject, it seems that many students take Math classes to prepare themselves for either college or work.

Experiments Promote Understanding

This year's science classes proved to be interesting and informative to GBHS students. From conservation and Agriculture to chemistry and physics, students learned about life and the living. Testing hypothesis and using emperical data not only trained young scientists for laboratory situations but for daily problem solving. With the diversified curriculum which the Science Department offers, there is a course for almost everyone. In some classes, through independent study projects, students are given the chance to explore a particular area and further their knowledge in a field of science.

Social Studies is a study of more than just Columbus discovering America. At Grand Blanc, it may mean the history of Michigan, the '76 elections, the Aztec Indian Tribe, or maybe how to adjust in life's situations. Whatever it is, students learn new and exciting things everyday.

The Social Studies Department received money from various organizations in order to hold some of their interesting Bicentennial programs. This Bicentenial year has been an experience for every student, and has given them an exceptional year of opportunity.

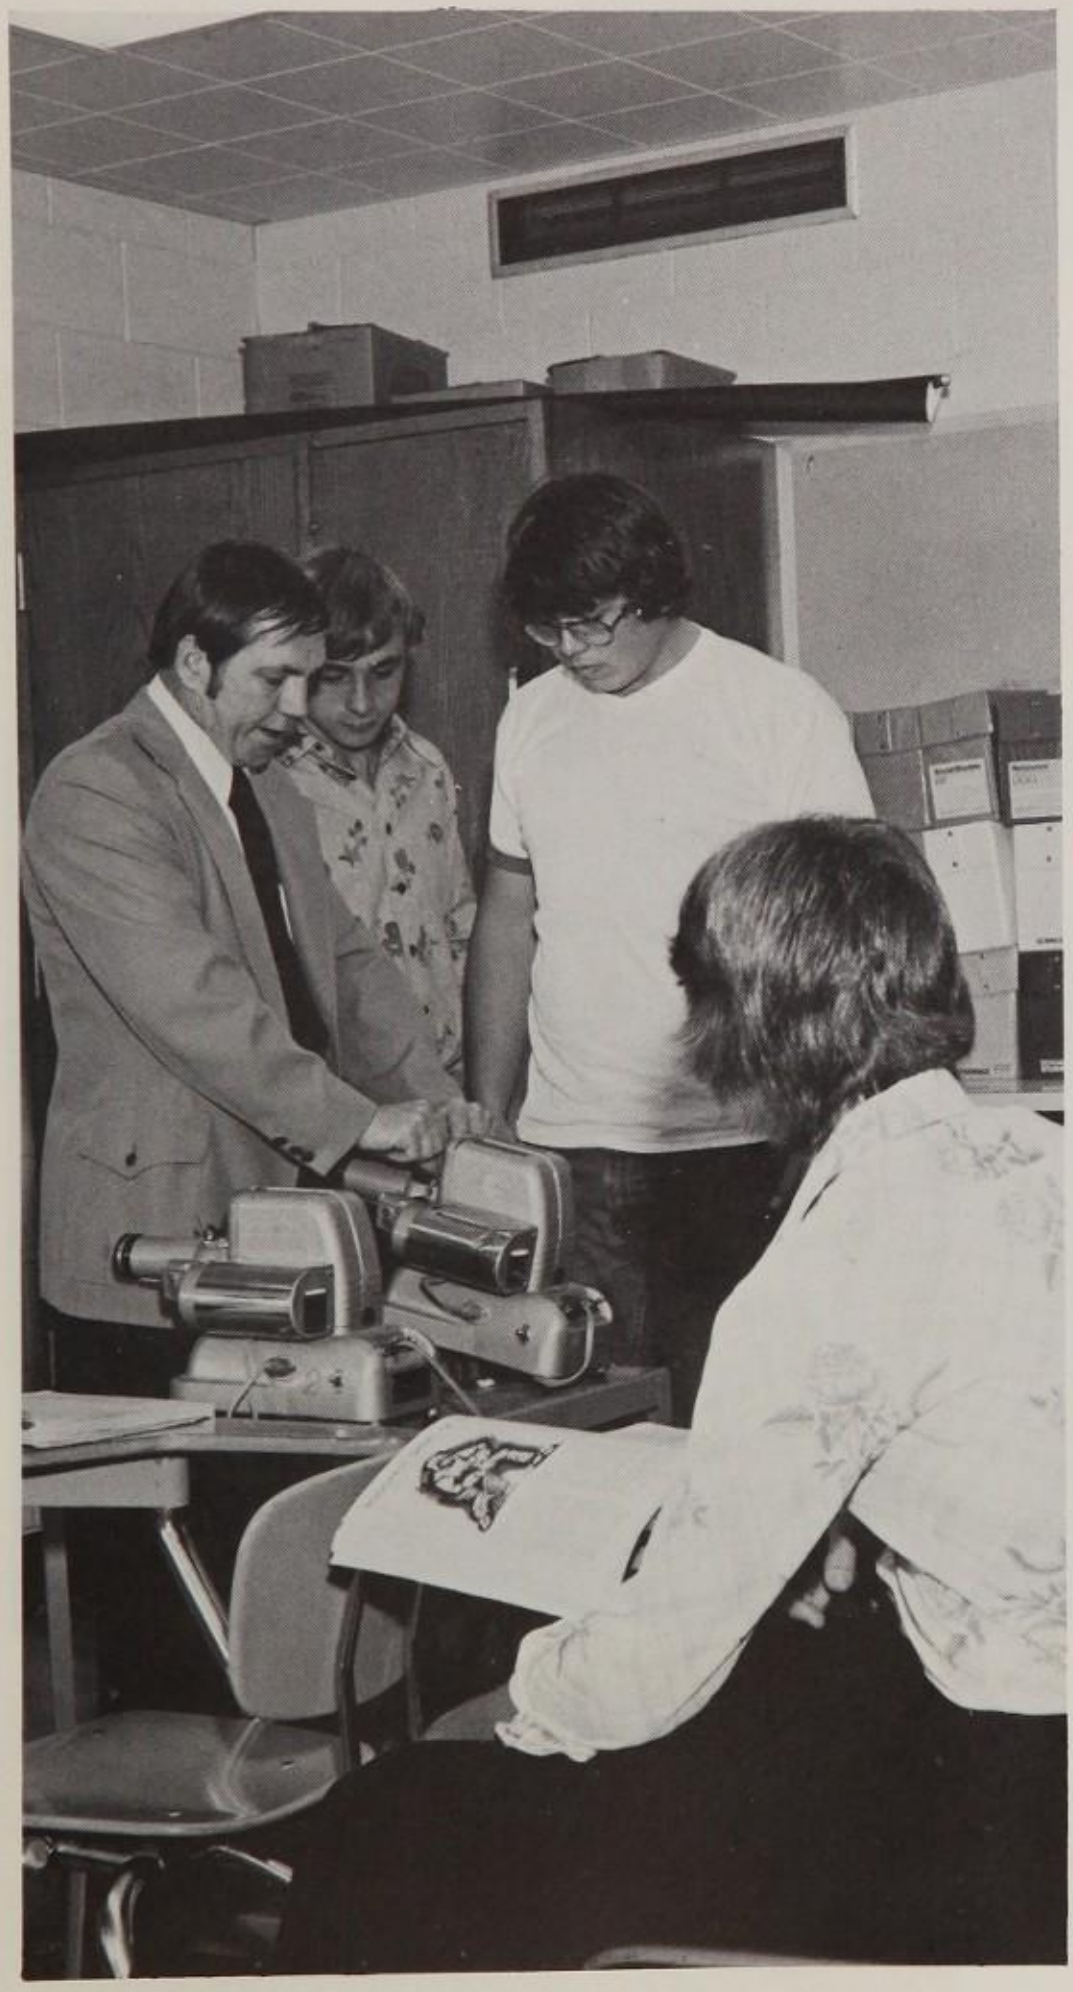
Students Gain Insight Into Real World Through English Studies



Hidden deep within the dusty classics of John Steinbeck, Ernest Hemingway, and William Shakespeare, the authors have expressed great truths about the world in which they lived. Through reading and analyzing classics by these and other authors, students can learn about periods in our history without taking a history course. The real world is revealed through the eyes of the classic novelists in a descriptive and accurate way.

The Reading Lab, now in its second year of operation, has continued to provide students with the opportunity to develop their reading abilities. In use ten hours a day, the lab uses audio-visual equipment to improve reading speed and comprehension.

Miss Nancy Provencal's German classes observed Thanksgiving with dishes such as Apful Kuchen, Pfeffernusse, Nudelphanne, and Kugelhoph, all prepared by the students themselves. Everyone involved agreed it was a fun experience. Language Department Chariman Mr. Peter Klose described the food as "Ausgezlichnet"-excellent.

The Foreign Language Clubs were also very active this year in activities which included trips to the theater and dinners at specialized restaurants.

From all indications, GBHS Foreign Language students were interested and involved in their studies and activities.

Exchange Students Break Barriers

Can you imagine what it would be like to spend several months in a foreign country? Even if you spoke the language, you'd have to make new friends, learn different customs, and still keep up with your homework. Grand Blanc was honored to host five Foreign Exchange Students from three countries. Kaiser Mutiller came from Finland and stayed with the Methner family. From Germany, Cay Peter Friemuth lived with the Longroys, and Claus Hudik with the Greens. The Smiths hosted Sauvas Sauvidas from Greece, and Vladimir Barros from Brazil stayed with Ray Gollardo. Despite the problems associated with living far away from home and studying in an unfamiliar land, the students broke the language barrier with their friendly smiles and determined efforts. Grand Blanc students benefited greatly from the experience too, as Foreign Exchange Students shared their customs with us.

Business Students Find Complete Concentration Necessary

Almost anyone walking past the typing rooms hears the click-click of typewriters to the sounds of music. Typing is an advantage for just about everyone, in high school, college, and life. The business department offers many useful courses including Secretarial Blocks, Accounting, Shorthand, and Typing. A student has a choice between a little or a lot, but either way, the experience is available. Working in an office situation will aid many of the students in furthering their careers.

Music Department Includes Theory And Literature

Singing and playing instruments are a way of expressing one's feelings and this idea was put into effect by GBHS band and choir students this year. They showed dedication in practices which paid off at concerts held by all music groups at several churches and schools. This year, many students took advantage of two special courses offered: Music Theory and Music Literature. These classes were taken by most students preparing for a career in the field of music. The Music Department was appreciated by the majority of students at GBHS because of the many activities and concerts which they sponsored.

Students Work Towards Art Fair

The December Art Fair, held in the student lounge, gave GBHS Art students a chance to exhibit their work in the style of a professional art show. It was challenging as they put forth their best efforts to create a winning piece of artwork, and rewarding to those who did so. The show was sponsored by the Art Department and was open to all students. Preparation for the fair began in the fall, and most art students had something to enter. The instructors picked only the best pieces of art to enter, and most were for sale. Because of this, the students tried to do their very best.

The old fashioned idea that Home Ec is nothing more than cooking and sewing has been proven out-dated. Running a home, managing a household budget, and raising children take more than a little training. Home Ec students are taught how to save money by comparative shopping, an important skill in today's recessive economy. Through classes like Child Development, the latest theories on child-rearing are brought to the attention of students. The entire department has shifted to provide more relevant courses.

Co-op is a program designed for students who want to work in career-related jobs for academic credit, while they attend regular classes. The program is especially for Juniors and Seniors who are close to making a decision as to their life's work. There are several categories from which a student can choose: Health, Distributive Education, and Business. Most of the students who participated in the course this past year agreed that they had benefitted from the experience of working for a year, and most of them had made a definite decision about making their job a career.

The teachers who spent their time with the Co-op program have been a great source of encouragement and help to the students, and Co-op is rated highly in the students' estimation.

Co-op Helps In Career Decisions

Far Right-Cleaning and setting tables is the job for Jim Robertson as he works as a busboy at Bill Knapps Restaurant. Center Right Above-Training for a secretarial job, Kathy Hindenburger works at the main desk in Central Office. Center Right Below-Karen Tucker enters a patient's room at McLaren Hospital with a blood pressure machine and a cheery smile. Above Right-Stu Myers works at McLaren Hospital and learns as he does various jobs such a preparing hot packs as shown. Right Below-Kim Smith works as a secretary at Genesee Bank.

The Health Occupations program was completely changed into a much more efficient and educational course with the new department area provided in the new school. The new equipment enabled all Health Occupations students to gain broader knowledge of apparatus used in hospitals and health centers. Among the new equipment received by the department were: examining lights above every bed, blood pressure apparatus, nurse call systems, and oxygen machines. The students were also provided with new models of hearts, linens, scrub sinks with knee controls, and electronic thermometers. Mrs. Marilyn Bandurski, Health Occupations teacher, said, "The most important thing that our department has gained in the new building is the large amount of space we have in our classroom and work area." Students took special training in class this year through the Red Cross and they received advanced first aid and instructors' cards. Through new Trainex films and new equipment, the Health Occupations students have a chance to learn a great deal.

Far Left Above-Senior Val Nassar learns how to operate the heart rate machine from Mrs. Kay Lea. Far Left Below-Health occupations students use a dummy they call Annie to practice using the blood pressure machine. Center Left Below-Sue Halstead and Norma Justice use the model of the human body as an aid in giving a report to their class. Left Above-Among the new equipment received for the department was the apparatus used in doctors' offices and hospitals. Left-All students learn the procedures for filling out a medical chart. Above-Students learn that the use of the heart rate machine can save a life.

Most underclassmen who take Distributive Education are preparing for the Co-op program. All students who have taken this course agree that it is fun but also, it is a lot of hard work! In reality, the students taking Distributive Education actually are the owners of the student stores. They are responsible for maintenance, buying all merchandise, and handling all situations which may occur. Along with the new school came new equipment and opportunities for these students. Mr. John McGinnis, Distributive Education teacher, commented, "The new student store is more realistic and has given the students a chance to gain broader experience so they will be better prepared for future careers." New equipment was put into use in the new store, such as: a time clock and cards, mannequins, a sign-making machine, and electronic cash registers. For the first time, this year the student store remained open for the entire school day. Through its work in the student stores, Distributive Education provides a service for students.

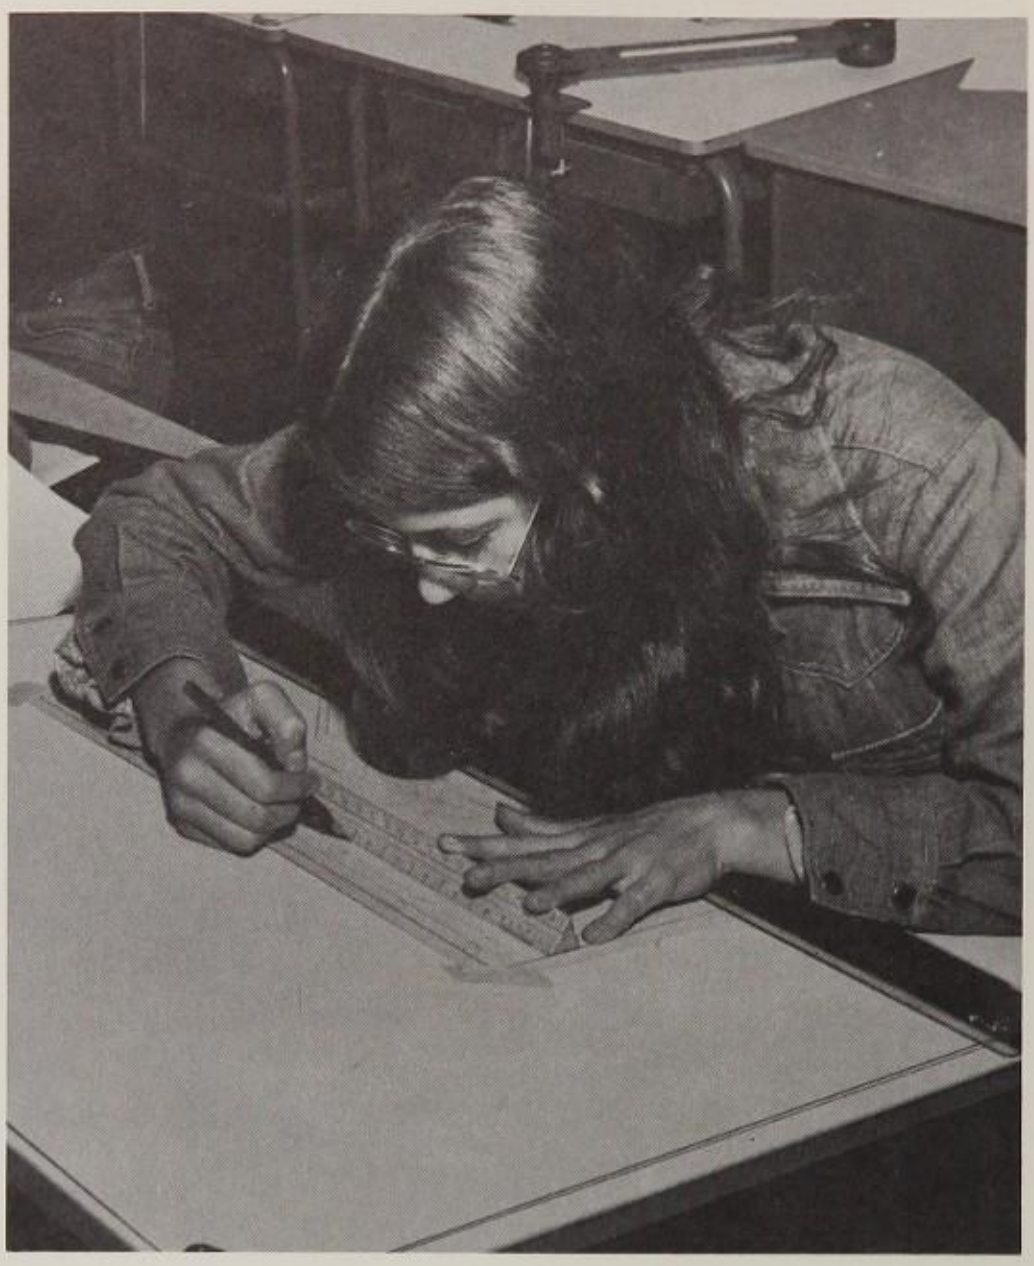
Far Above Left-Mr. John McGinnis, Distributive Education teacher, enjoys a relaxing moment in his new office. Far Below Left-Senior Jim Crawley sets up a book display in his classes' personal showcase. Left Above-Brian Hoey plans an advertisement with the new sign-making machine. Left-A supermarket student examines prices of canned goods, not at Hamady's but on the shelves of G.B.'s own supermarket. Above-Dawn Phillips tries to decide whether to buy candy or pop from the new student store.



Industrial Arts students ventured in to many different fields this past year. Led by Department Chairman Mr. Walt Hungeford and his staff, students did projects such as making molds out of hot metal in Hot Metals class, drawing constructions, and making statues and wood carvings in Wood Shop. Many students who plan to work in one of the industrial arts fields found that the courses offered at GBHS helped them in their career decisions. Although "shop" classes have catered mainly to boys in the past, this year was different with several girls in the drafting and shop classes. The many nicely crafted projects prove that the students benefited from the instruction of the Industrial Arts teachers.

Competition Builds Character

This year's Physical Education classes had a look different from that in past years. The guy's classes, led by rookie teacher Mr. Larry Aceto and veterans Mr. Don York, Mr. Hal Anderson, and Mr. Joe Pitock began by learning new skills in such sports as speedball, volleyball, basketball, and soccer. After two to three days spent learning actual skills, the classes formed teams and competed against each other. The girls in Physical Education had a good year also, participating competitively in volleyball, basketball, and many other sports. All students were given days when they could choose the sport which they wanted to play.

The Physical Education Department gives all students the opportunity to build themselves, both physically and mentally. Above all, the students learn new skills and abilities to put into action.

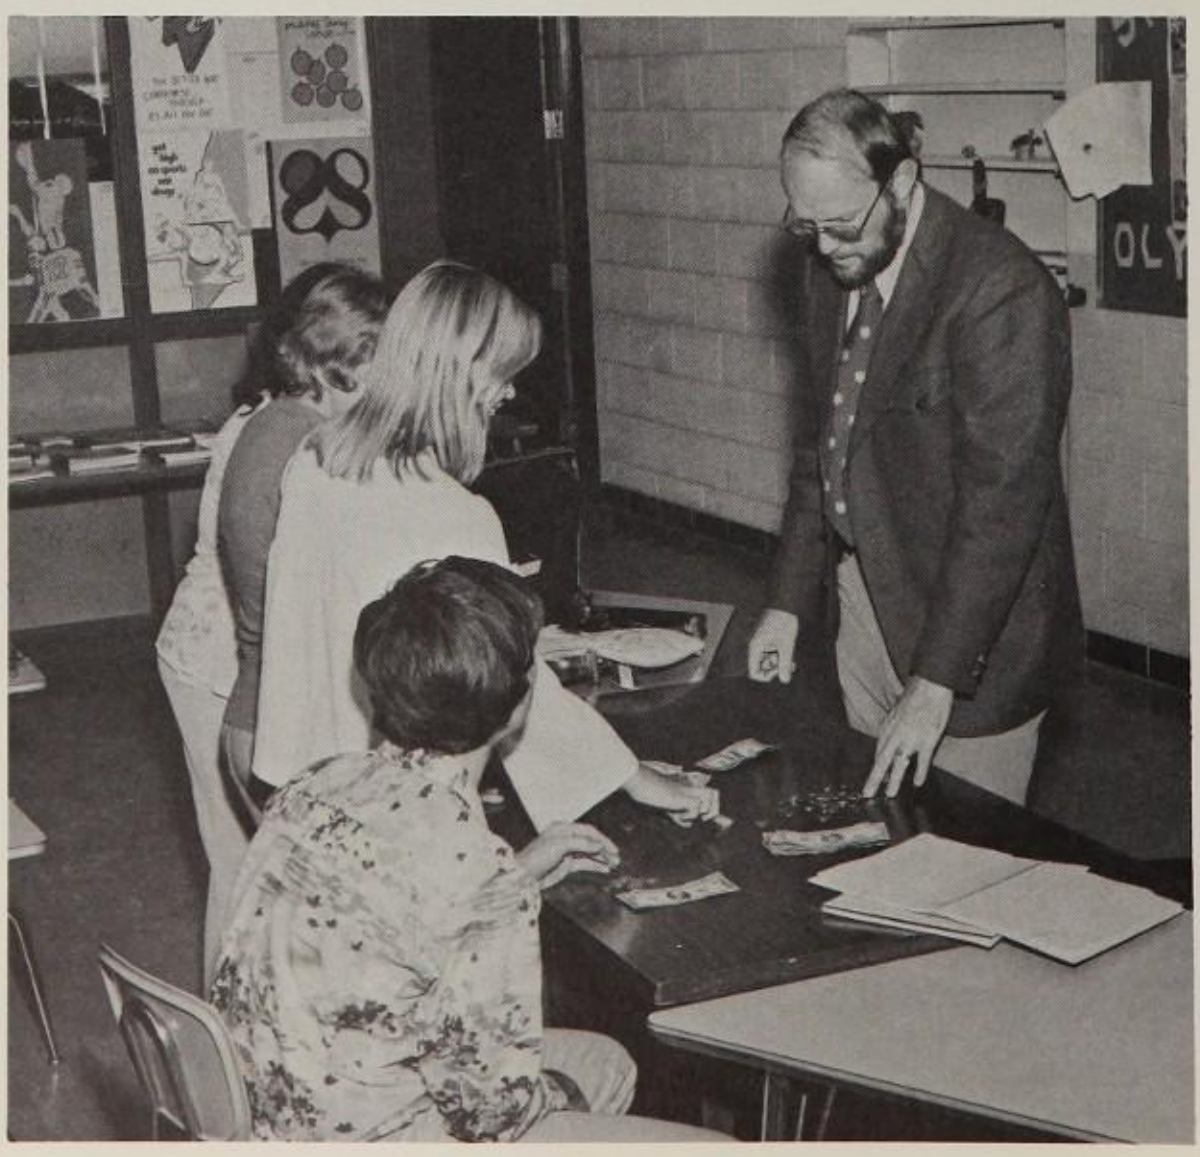
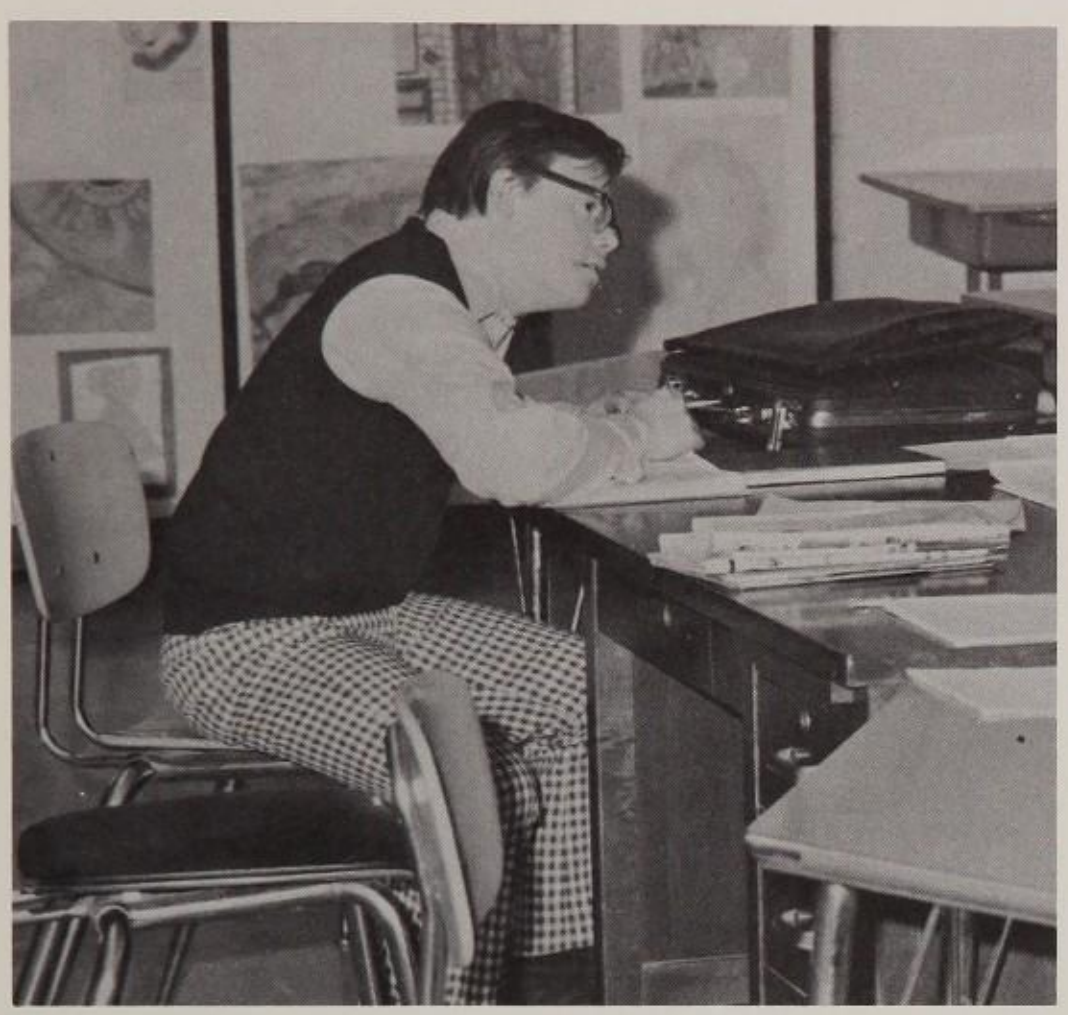
Far Right Top-Roger Messerly listens closely to the activities of his class. Far Right Center-Mr. Roger Griffith discusses current newspaper articles with Doug Stiles. Far Right-Practical Academics students gather around their literature table to read jointly. Right Top-Several students look over a bulletin board they covered with articles from the Special Olympics. Right Bottom-Money changing was a project taken on by Mr. Roger Griffith and his students during this year. Below-Renee Johnson staples more pictures on the art wall.

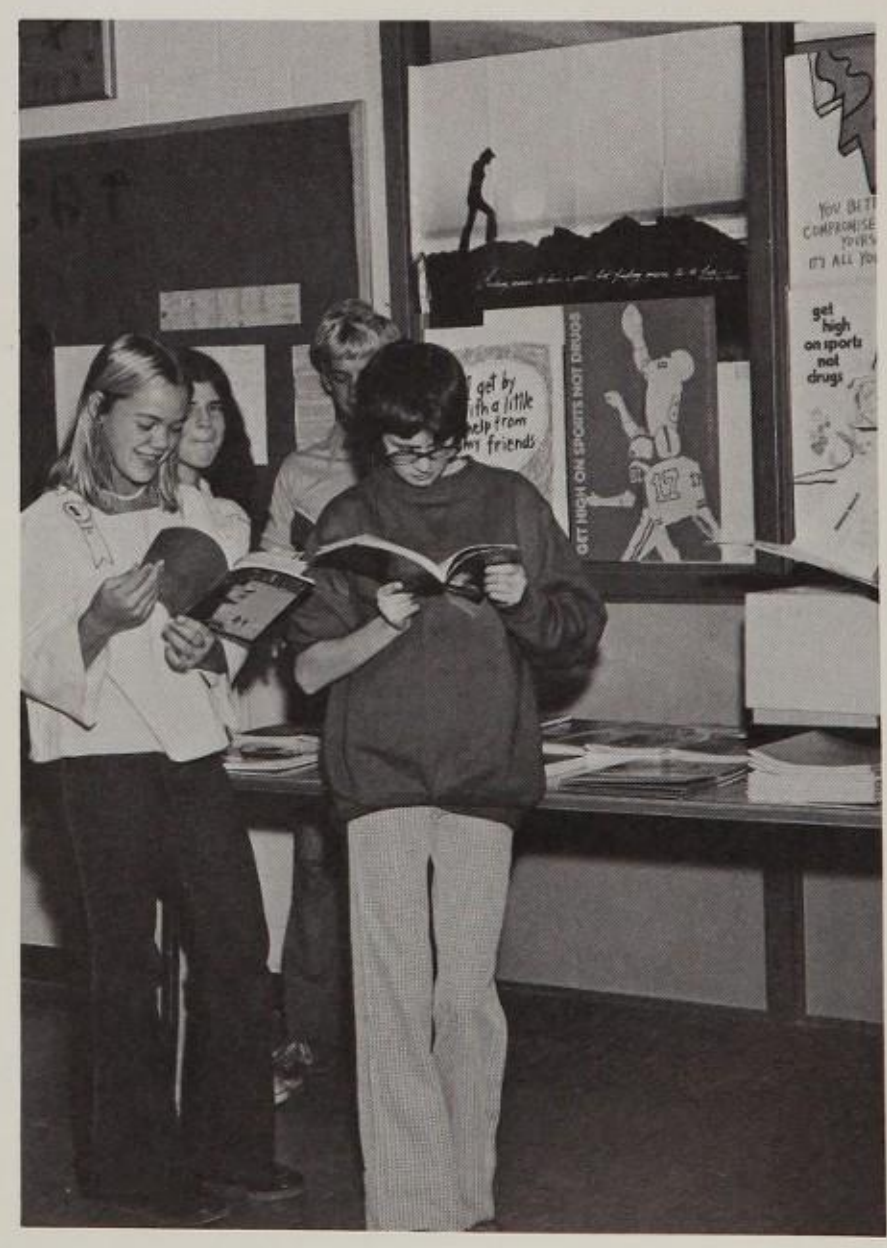


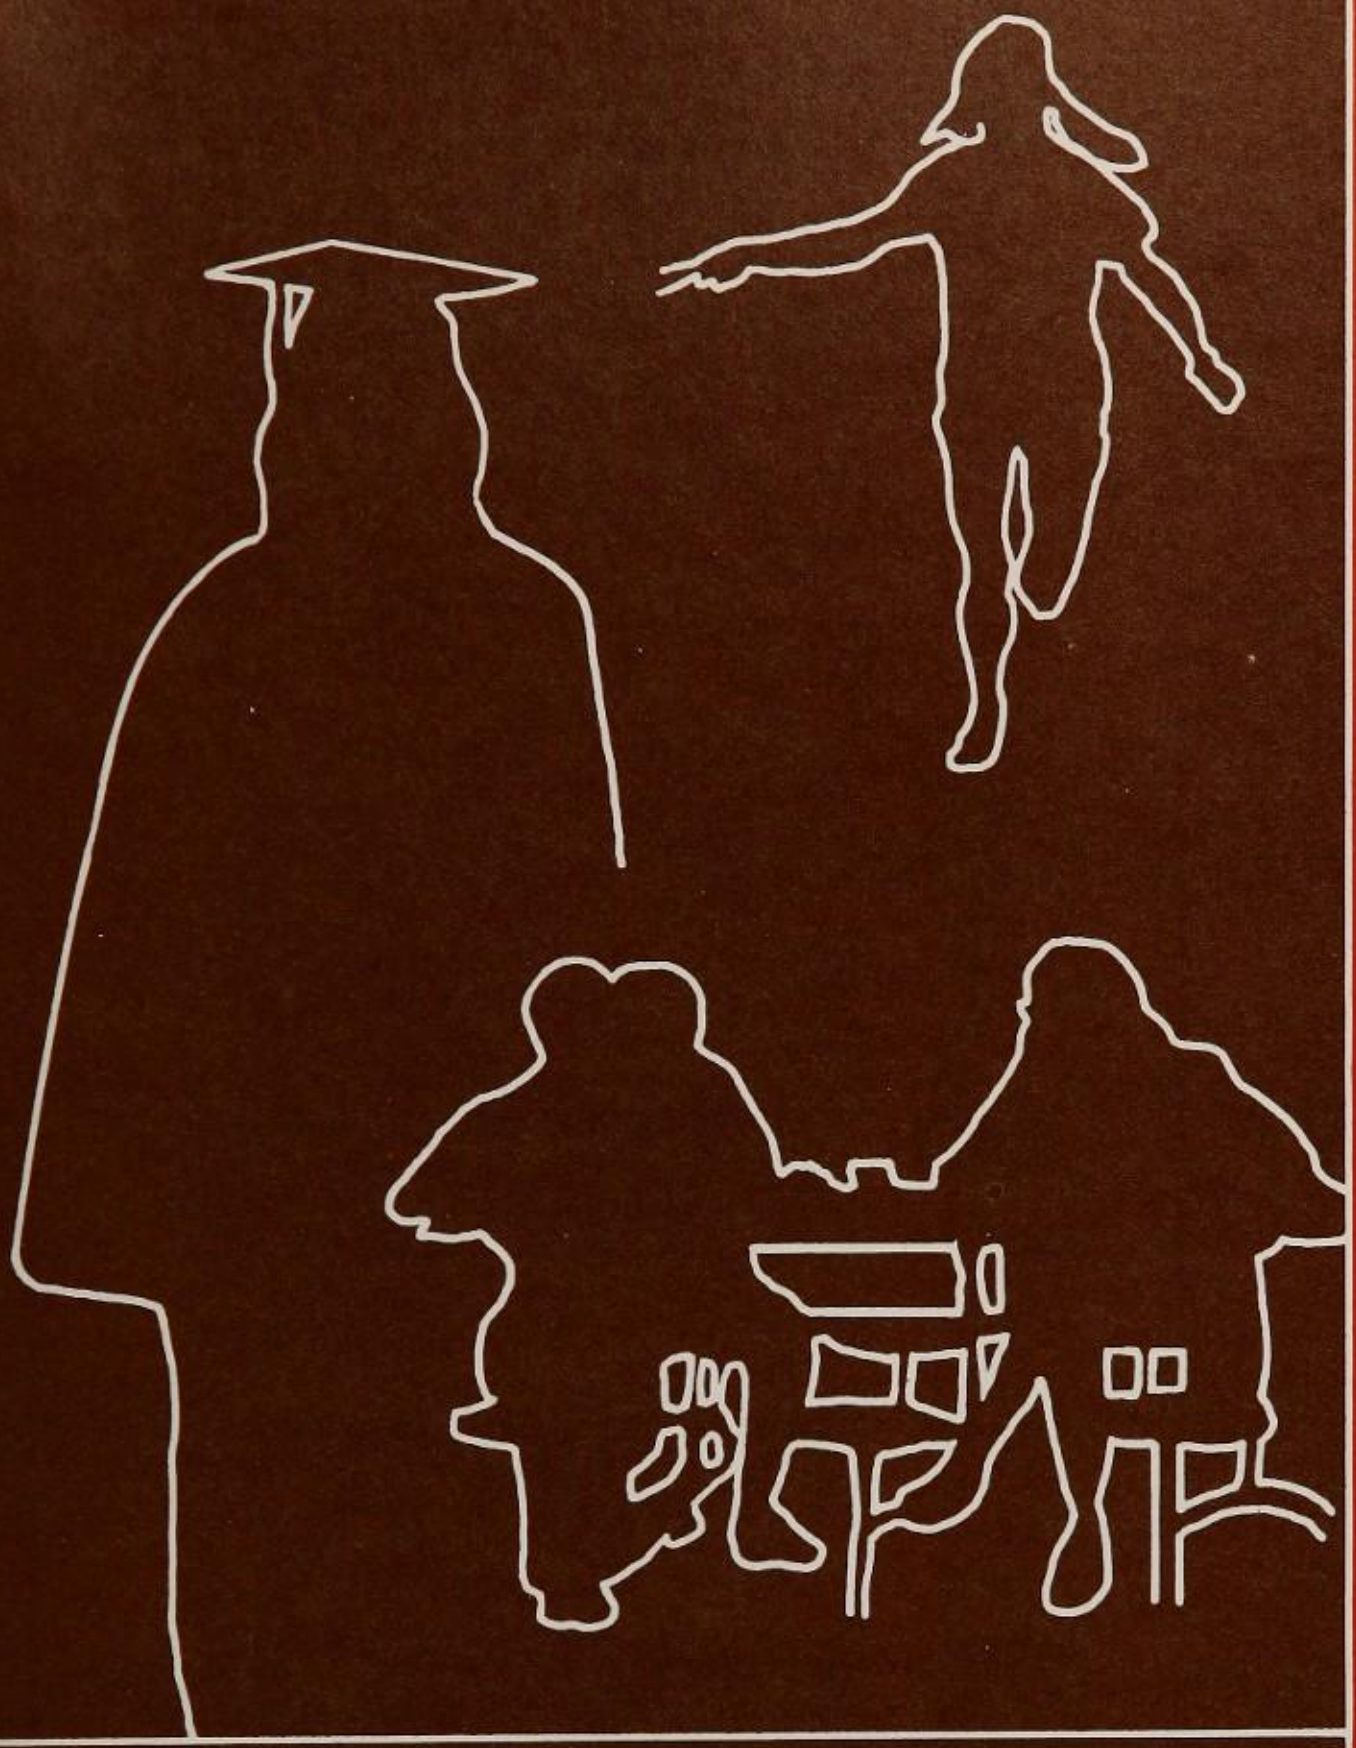


Practical Academic is a class in which special students take most of their courses in one classroom at a slower pace by practice and experience. Mr. Roger Griffith is the leader of this class and has said that he enjoys working with his students very much.

This past summer, several students from practical academics took part in the Special Olympics held at Central Michigan in Mt. Pleasant. Kelly Hurd, a sophomore, participated in the Olympics in the swimming competition. She did very well and was featured in several articles on the Olympics.

Practical Academics is a class which benefits the special students of the school and is appreciated by their families.





PLAID

With the passing of each year, our lives as students become more complex. When Grand Blanc was first settled, the problems which students faced were local; national problems rarely affected the pioneer farmers of our town. Today, we as students are more aware of the world surrounding us than at any other time in history. At seventeen, we know more about our world than our forefathers did at thirty. We are faced with a scientifically advancing society, and must deal with the problems which our progress creates. Although our lives are more complicated, in many ways we are much like the students of yesterday. We are still questioning, rebelling, contesting those values with which we do not agree. In this sense, we are linked to the students of yesterday and tomorrow.

As Seniors come to the end of their senior year, their thoughts turn to what lies ahead. Many plan on going to college, others just want to get a job and make money. Future archeologists, lawyers, businessmen, doctors, and teachers will graduate together. There are artists, dancers, actors, and musicians who may someday be famous. Of the many assorted futures, some will be successful and others not so successful. Each Senior wonders which type of future his will be. Everyone hopes that he will be rich and happy, though he knows that not all will make it. Seniors look ahead with expectation and curiosity to whatever the future may hold.

When Homecoming rolls around, the great Senior Class Spirit explodes into action. Even losing to the Juniors by a mere fraction of a point in the Interclass Games couldn't kill the spirit. "The Shot Heard Around the World" was the theme for the Senior float. Though the float came in second, the super senior spirit came in first. Winning the big game against Owosso restored any spirit that might have slipped away. The Senior's last Homecoming Dance was "A Night in New York". The dance with "Smack Dab" providing the music, was a great end to a week of explosive spirit.

Going to classes and doing homework is terribly hard to do, knowing that it's the last time for all the fun things. After high school, many people will be going off to college. College homework is more complicated than what Seniors are used to. Leaving hcme to go to college is sometimes scary, especially when it's the first time away from home. Seniors don't like to admit it, but the new responsibilities seem impossible to cope with. It's not easy for them to break away from what they have been accustomed to. Even though the change from high school to college is a big one, Seniors can't wait for the first step.

Seniors Give Micro-Wave Oven

Under the guidance of sponsors Mr. Ted Marshall and Mrs. Charles Martell, the Senior Steering Committee was active the entire year. The traditional responsibilities of the Senior Class including the running of the concession stand during football and basketball season, organizing Homecoming Activities and Prom, and deciding on the Senior Trip were all undertaken by the committee. In addition, they purchased a micro-wave oven for the concession stand as the Senior Class Gift.

Seniors, Job Market Uncertain

Seniors who have chosen not to go to college will be job hunting soon. When graduation is over, jobs are a necessity. Before the year is over, there are many last minute decisions about jobs. Seniors know that they have to go out on their own sometime, but are reluctant to do it now. They are afraid that there will be bills to pay and tax forms to fill out when they do get a job. With the shortage of jobs, there is always the chance of not finding one. Seniors who are going to college need jobs to pay for tuition. The job market is uncertain, and so are Seniors.

Many seniors get the dreaded "Senioritis" as the important walk down the aisle of the IMA comes nearer. "Senioritis" is the name attached to the great desire for getting out that seniors feel. Graduation is the end of thirteen years spent in school. A mixture of excitement for the future's fresh experiences, and nostalgia for all of the familiar school activities, makes senior attention spans short. As all seniors know, it's hard to do homework, when at the same time, it seems like life is passing you by. Senior year's activities suddenly seem more important than they ever did before, because this is the last chance to become involved.

High school is the whirl of fall leaves swirling across a road at twilight.
It's a gold-plated megaphone dangling
from a dainty chain.
It's buying all the latest fashions
then baby-sitting.
It's meeting friends,
watching the winning touchdown
and experiencing the thrill and sweat
of a locker room
after the struggle.
High school is cramming for an exam
that you'd rather forget.
It's a shiny bronze ring that catches the light and a charm bracelet with scattered memories.
High school is growing up, and growing up is wishing you were young again.

Juniors Ride First

Sharp chicken wire, jammed staplers, and dedicated Juniors were the backbone of the Juniors' victorious float. The class of '77 captured first in float competition. The Juniors' tension grew as their float made its final bound around the field before the winning float was announced. When the second place winners, the Seniors, were announced, a roar from proud Juniors sprang from the stands. Paul Revere's ride was the theme of their float. For many Juniors, his ride will be remembered as a victorious one, rather than an historicial one.

Cindy Serges represented the Juniors for Homecoming '75. Cindy is a member of the Girls' Pom Pom squad as well as a participant in the Porker Bowl. She shivered with a smile while riding through the parade on that blustery Homecoming day.

Interclass games charged the spirits of all, especially the first place winners, the Juniors. The Junior's lead was constantly being challenged by the Seniors. The tug-of-war was the deciding event between the Seniors and the Juniors. Junior squads overpowered both the Senior girls team and the Senior guy's team, to put the Juniors in first.

691 Juniors Await Future Year

"Wow, one year left!" Many Juniors find themselves saying this when they begin to wonder about becoming Seniors.

College is the next thing on the list for many kids, but for others, making their Senior year the best possible is the most important thing.

The last step on a spiral staircase is the same as one's Senior year. While growing up, we always admired big high school kids and even envied them. But we never realize we've made it to the point we always dreamed of until it's already passed.

The last year is the most important and more than half of the 691 Juniors are waiting to make the most of the future year as Seniors, the class of '77.

After two years of experience, the Junior Class Steering Committee had things well under control. Coming up with new ways to raise money is not as easy as baking some cookies or roller skating down the halls. The steering committee shares responsibilities for organizing duties: "Who will bake what?", "What color will they be?", "What hours should we sell?". Without the participation of a few interested kids, very little would happen. Steering committees are essential for being organized, and many members have found that becoming involved in their class has made high school more meaningful.

Every Junior class in GBHS has been compared to the Senior class and the determination of each class always surprises people.

As Freshman, they took second in float competition, the first Frosh class to place anywhere other than fourth in many years. From then on they continued to make an upward climb in GBHS. When Juniors, they took first in float competition and interclass games.

The Steering committee is always coming up with new ideas, such as Valograms, to keep the halls buzzing with interest.

As time goes on, when things change, you can bet that the class of '77 will be involved with the changing.

Sophomore's Tea

On McCandlish Road, Sophomores went to work on their float. The barn used is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Louis Selesky.

Do you remember reading about the Boston Tea Party, when all the tea was thrown overboard? Well, surprisingly enough, this year it was the Sophomores who got thrown overboard when their float, "Boston Tea Party," came in last place. Sophomores voted Lori Paulson to represent them at Homecoming, escorted by Pat Petegrew.

Top Right-Sophomore Princess Lori Paulson rides with her escort Pat Petegrew in the Homecoming Parade. Bottom Right-The Boston Tea Party was the theme used by Sophomores for their float.

Another year has passed, and many big changes have taken place at GBHS. Sophomores, after February 16, 1976, could no longer sleep late in the mornings. The opening of the new school set everyone on a full day of classes, starting at 7:00 AM.

Sophomores are looking forward to the 76-77 school year when, as Juniors, they will have more opportunities to become involved in the activities of Grand Blanc High School.

The class of 78, or better known as the Sophomore Class of 76, has been in and out of debt as all of the classes have been. They finally concluded that money does not grow on trees and so they had to find a way to get some. The Selesky family gave the Sophomore Class thirty dollars for cleaning their barn. The Selesky barn was also used for Sophomore float construction. This, along with the bake sales, helped bale out the sophomores.

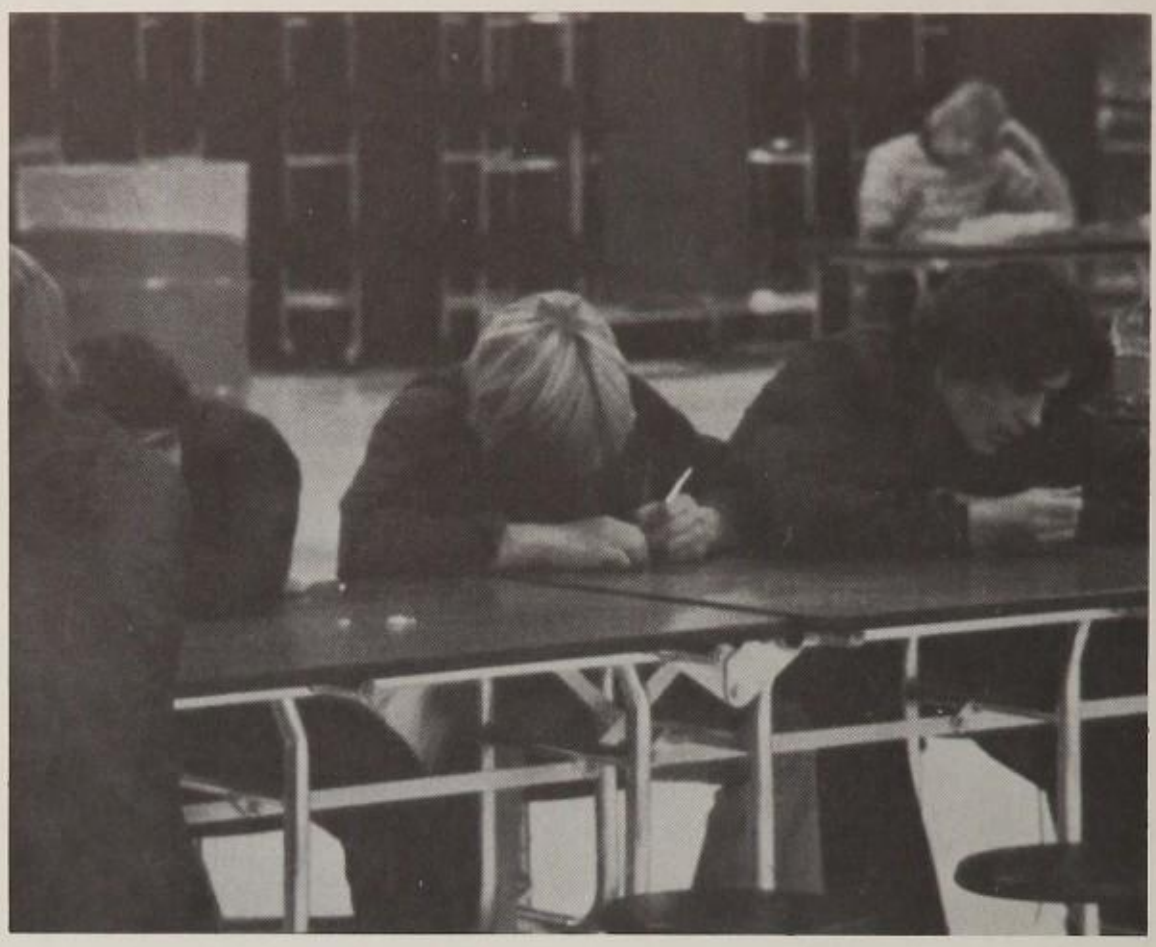
Sophomores Propose Winter Carnival

Last January, the Sophomore Class Steering Committee proposed the idea of having a winter carnival. This carnival would be very similar to homecoming activities such as interclass games. The major difference between the two events would be seen in the election of a Snow Carnival King and Princes, as opposed to Homecoming Queen and Queen's Court. The games played in the carnival would be designed specifically for winter competition. Another idea that was proposed was to make a float on a snow sled to be pulled around like the floats are during Homecoming, except "people power" would be used instead of cars.



Right-At times there is nothing to do but relax.

What Do You Like?

When freshmen were asked, "what do you like most about High School?", the answers were varied. The students feel that High School, just like Jr. High, has it's good and bad features. "Break" was an answer that showed up frequently as the most popular feature. Others said "the freedom", "lots of guys", "more activities" and "you get to meet a lot of new people". When asked, "what do you dislike?", a clear majority said "the work". With many good features and only one bad one, the freshman class must be enjoying high school.

Frosh Learn What GBHS Is About

On September 5, 1975, all 744 Freshmen piled into GBHS, excited and yet a little tense. At first they were unsure of themselves, but as the weeks passed, so did their fears. GBHS became a part of every student. The change from Jr. High to High School was a tremendous one. The freshman class experienced what it's like in a more complex building. They were also faced with greater responsibilities than ever before. When asked, "what was the greatest change from jr. high to high school?" most students answered they liked high school better. A common response was "more freedom, more excitement, more fun" and "you don't have to wear a uniform". Other people were not so impressed with High School, a typical response was "more homework" or "you have to use your brain". In high school there might be more excitement, more homework, more freedom, but the freshman class has adapted well to it's new environment.

Probably one of the most exciting events of the school year is Homecoming, especially exciting for the Freshman, who are experiencing it for the first time.

The competition and work involved in making Homecoming a success enables Freshman to learn what it's like to work as a team.

Even though Interclass games, Freshman Princess, and the float building competition were new to the freshman class, they had much enthusiasm. In the competitions, Becky Lamb was honored as Freshman Princess, and in the midst of sewing her flag, "Betsy Ross", took 3rd place in the float competition. Struggling all the way, the class of '79 took 4th place in the Interclass games.

Ms. Wickline, the new Assistant Principal Intern, says she "really likes the positive relationship between students and faculty." She received her Bachelor's Degree in Secondary Education English at Michigan State University, and her Masters in Guidance and Counseling at Oakland University. A former English teacher here, Ms. Wickline says she will really miss the close day to day contact with students.

Mr. Lawrence Cartwright, a Vietnam veteran, is the new Assistant Principal. Mr. Cartwright earned his Bachelor's Degree in Biology in 1965, his Masters in Educational Administration in 1974, and his Specialist degree in School Administration in 1975. All three degrees were earned at Central Michigan University. He spent eight years in the army as an aviator and a captain in field artillery. Mr. Cartwright went to Vietnam twice; once in 1968 and again in 1971.

Teachers Manage To Make It

The staff here at GBHS has experienced many different changes in the 75-76 school year.

Leaving the Business Department were Mr. Mike Dixon who is now attending Western Michigan University and Mr. Richard Bogart, now attending North Carolina University.

Taking Mr. Dixon's place is Mrs. Jan Best. Mrs. Best was formerly employed at a credit union and she received her degree at the University of Michigan. Mr. John Comber, a former supermarket owner, is replacing Mr. Bogart. Mr. Comber is teaching Supermarket Merchandising and Retail Sales. He received his vocational certification from Michigan State University. Before coming to Grand Blanc, Mr. Comber taught in the Mott Adult Education Program.

There were few changes in the Physical Education Department. Mr. Chuck Creasey is now head of the Parks and Recreation Commission. Taking his place is Mr. Larry Aceto.

The Art Department has one new addition, Mr. Larry Clegg. Before coming to the high school, he taught for seven years at Perry Junior High School. Mr. Clegg has had exhibits in The Flint Annual Art Exhibition from 1969 through 1974.

Joining the Home Economics Department is Mrs. Kaye McMillian, a graduate of Northern Michigan University. Miss Theoderoff became Mrs. Jack Pratt and is not teaching this year.

Leaving the English Department were Mrs. Marianne Rocco, who is now teaching in Ishpeming, Michigan, Mr. Ed Wright who will sponsor newspaper and yearbook and coach track in Osceola, Iowa, and Mrs. Sally Coate who moved to Indianapolis.

Mrs. Mary Beth Scavo formerly taught Spanish here and English and Social Studies at McGrath. She taught B.C. I and II. Mr. Larry Stotz, also from McGrath, will sponsor the Bobcat Banner and teach B.C. I & II.

Mrs. Judy Clegg joins the Math Department after teaching seven years at Perry. Mrs. Clegg graduated in 1968 from Central Michigan University.

Mrs. Peggy Yates. a former GBHS student, joins the Social Studies Department. Mrs. Yates taught for three years at Holy Family and graduated from Western Michigan University.

Grand Blanc receives these teachers with a warm welcome and we hope they enjoy teaching here.

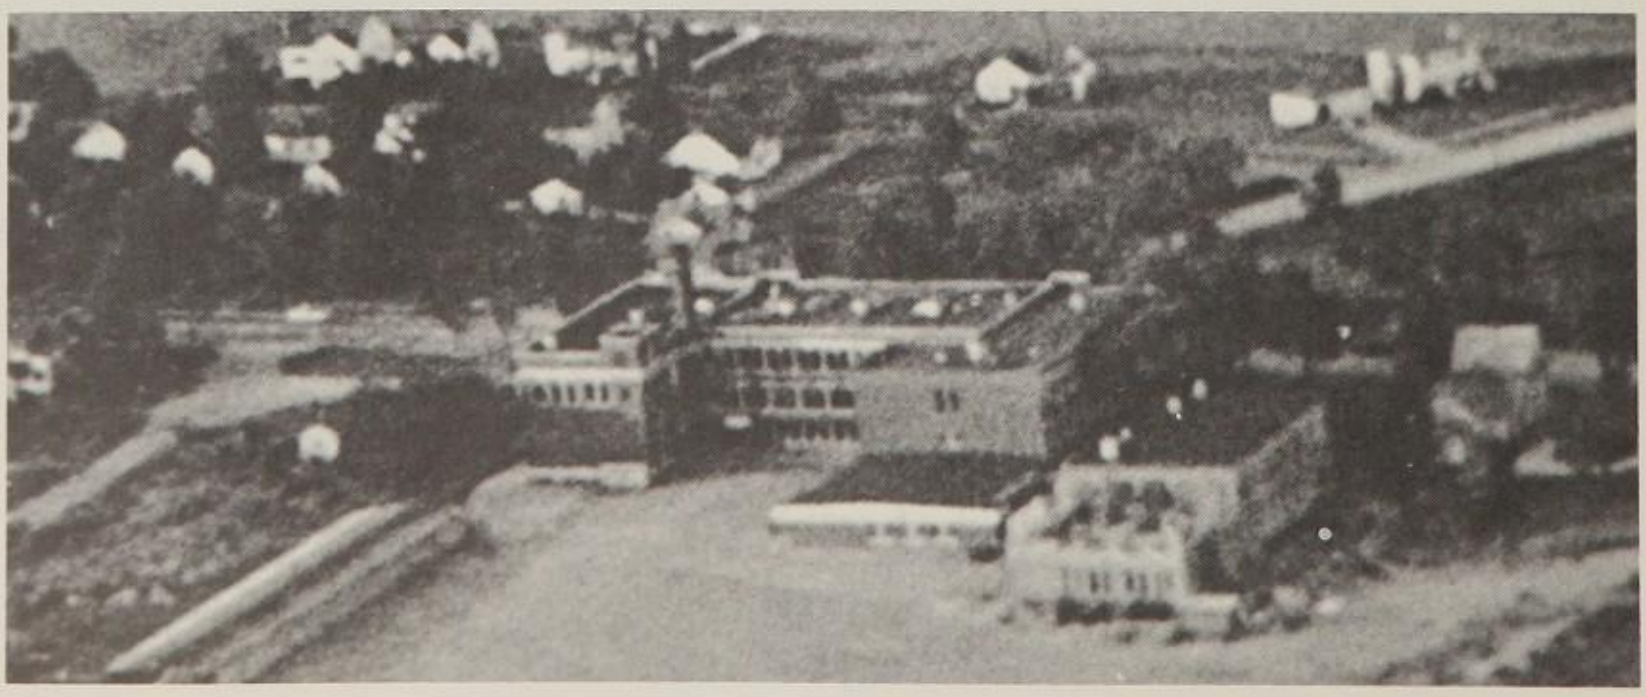
GRAND BLANC

In honor of our nation's bicentennial year, the 1976 Echo dedicates this section to the history of Grand Blanc.

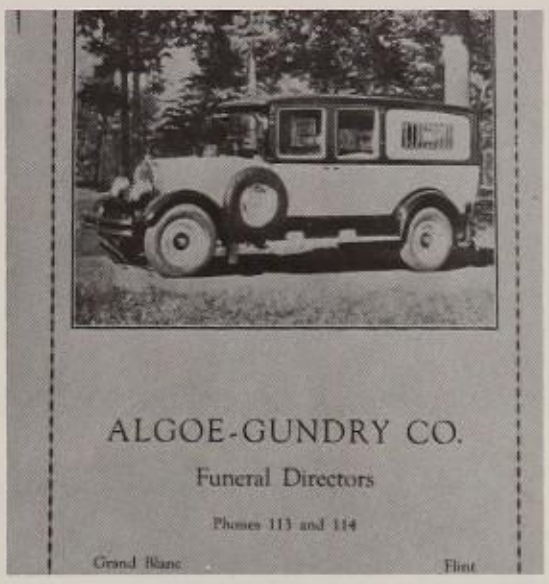
GRAND BLANC HISTORY

GB Settled In 1823



Grand Blanc, or "Grumlaw" as it was originally called, was first settled in the spring of 1823 by Jacob Stephens and his family. Over the years, the town grew and prospered until it had a population of 1,389 in 1874. Developing much like other midwest communities, GB was an agricultural town throughout the early 1900's, and until 1942, area farms were the center of attention. It was in 1942 that the tank plant began operation, producing those strong weapons for the American effort in World War II. The plant brought not only jobs but unity to GB. Following the war, emphasis shifted from the factory back to the farms, which had supported the community in the past.

Since then, GB has continued to grow, and now it is a prospering town which not only provides homes for those who work in Flint and its industry, but also has industry of its own.



Left-This aerial photo of GB, taken in 1946, shows Perry and the surrounding area. Above Left-Tanks often were seen in the testing ground behind the tank plant. Above Right-One-room schoolhouses like this were the first schools. Center Right-The Algoe-Gundry Ambulance Service placed this ad in the 1925 Echo. Center Far Right-One of the first horse-drawn school buses stands in front of the first Grand Blanc School. Right-Service stations, like this one, have been a part of GB since cars began appearing on roads here.

THIRD UNITED STATES ARMY
OFFICE OF THE COMMANDING GENERAL
APO 403

25 January, 1945

My dear Miss Sette:

Replying to your letter of January 12, 1945 in which you propose to dedicate the 1945 edition of the "Echo", your school annual, to the men of the 3rd Army and to build the year-book around the tanks constructed in your vicinity. No one has a higher opinion than myself of the value of American tanks, nor of the important part they play in this war. There is no tank as good as our tank.

However, a machine does not possess a soul, and the outstanding part played by our tanks is due to the souls and iron courage of the officers and soldiers who man and operate those machines. It is therefore very fitting that proper emphasis be given to the heroic courage of the American soldier who, in spite of all difficulties of terrain, weather, and enemy action, is invariably victorious.

With best wishes for the success of your publication,

I am

Very truly yours,

G. S. PATTON, JR.,
Lieut. General, U. S. Army,
Commanding.

The history of Grand Blanc schools begins in 1830 when the first one-room schoolhouse was built by Edmund Perry. Several such schools existed before the first official Grand Blanc School was built.

Not only did the school buildings change, but school life underwent radical changes over the years. The following is a short reconstruction of what school like was like in . . .

1920's - What is now Perry Junior High School opened its doors in 1922, bringing a "modern" building to GB. Farming was a way of life here, and since most students had to be home after school to do chores, extracurricular activities were at a minimum. By 1925, the only sports offered for guys were football, basketball, and baseball, all coached by the same man. Girls who wanted to compete in sports played basketball, the only girls' sport at GBHS. Classes were small; the Class of 1926 had only 16 graduates. Because of such small classes, the students were very close, and much more unified than today. The Hi-Y Club, a club for guys requiring its members to have "clean speech, clean living, clean scholarship, and clean sportsmanship" was the only school-related club.

1930's - As GB began to grow in size, so did the size of school classes; the Class of 1939 had 77 students, at the time the largest class ever to graduate from GBHS. The north and south wings of Perry were added in 1935 and 1939 to accomodate the growing student body. Girl's Softball, Girl's Track, and Boy's Track, the only sport with two coaches, were added to the list of GBHS sports. Don Batchelor, after whom our football field was named, coached three sports alone. Girl's Reserves, the sister organization to the Hi-Y, and familiar clubs like Student Council, FFA, and Home Ec Club became part of the school's organizations. Plays, usually performed for only one night, and concerts were added to school activities. A calendar of events for the year, listed in the Echo included comments like "Bob Ford brought Margaret Sanders to practice, but we never did find out who took her home."

The Way Things Were In . . .

1940's - The 1940 Echo describes the typical senior guy as one who "sings when he is happy and is very fond of dancing, especially a smooth fox trot . . . As far as dancing is concerned, he's all in favor of swing and likes Benny Goodman . . . Clark Gable is definitely his favorite movie star . . ."

As the 40's went on, though, World War II began, bringing profound changes in the students themselves as well as in school life. During the war, students were caught up in the wave of patriotism that swept the country, characterized by sayings like "United We Stand." The tank plant, which was housed in what is now Fisher Body Grand Blanc, was such an integral part of life here that the Class of 1945 dedicated their Echo to the plant and the men who worked there. Many students left school to join one of the armed forces and fight for our country. Those who stayed behind did their part as well; school clubs sponsored projects to aid the war effort. The feelings in the school during the war era are best summed up by a statement in the 1946 Echo: "What greater gift can we give to the Republic than to teach and instruct our youth?" After the war, some veterans returned to school to complete the education that the war had interrupted. Emphasis was again placed on agricultural clubs - 4-H, FFA, Farm Shop. Class sizes continued to increase; the Class of 1949 had 89 graduates. GBHS sports teams were named the "Bobcats" by the Student Council in 1945.

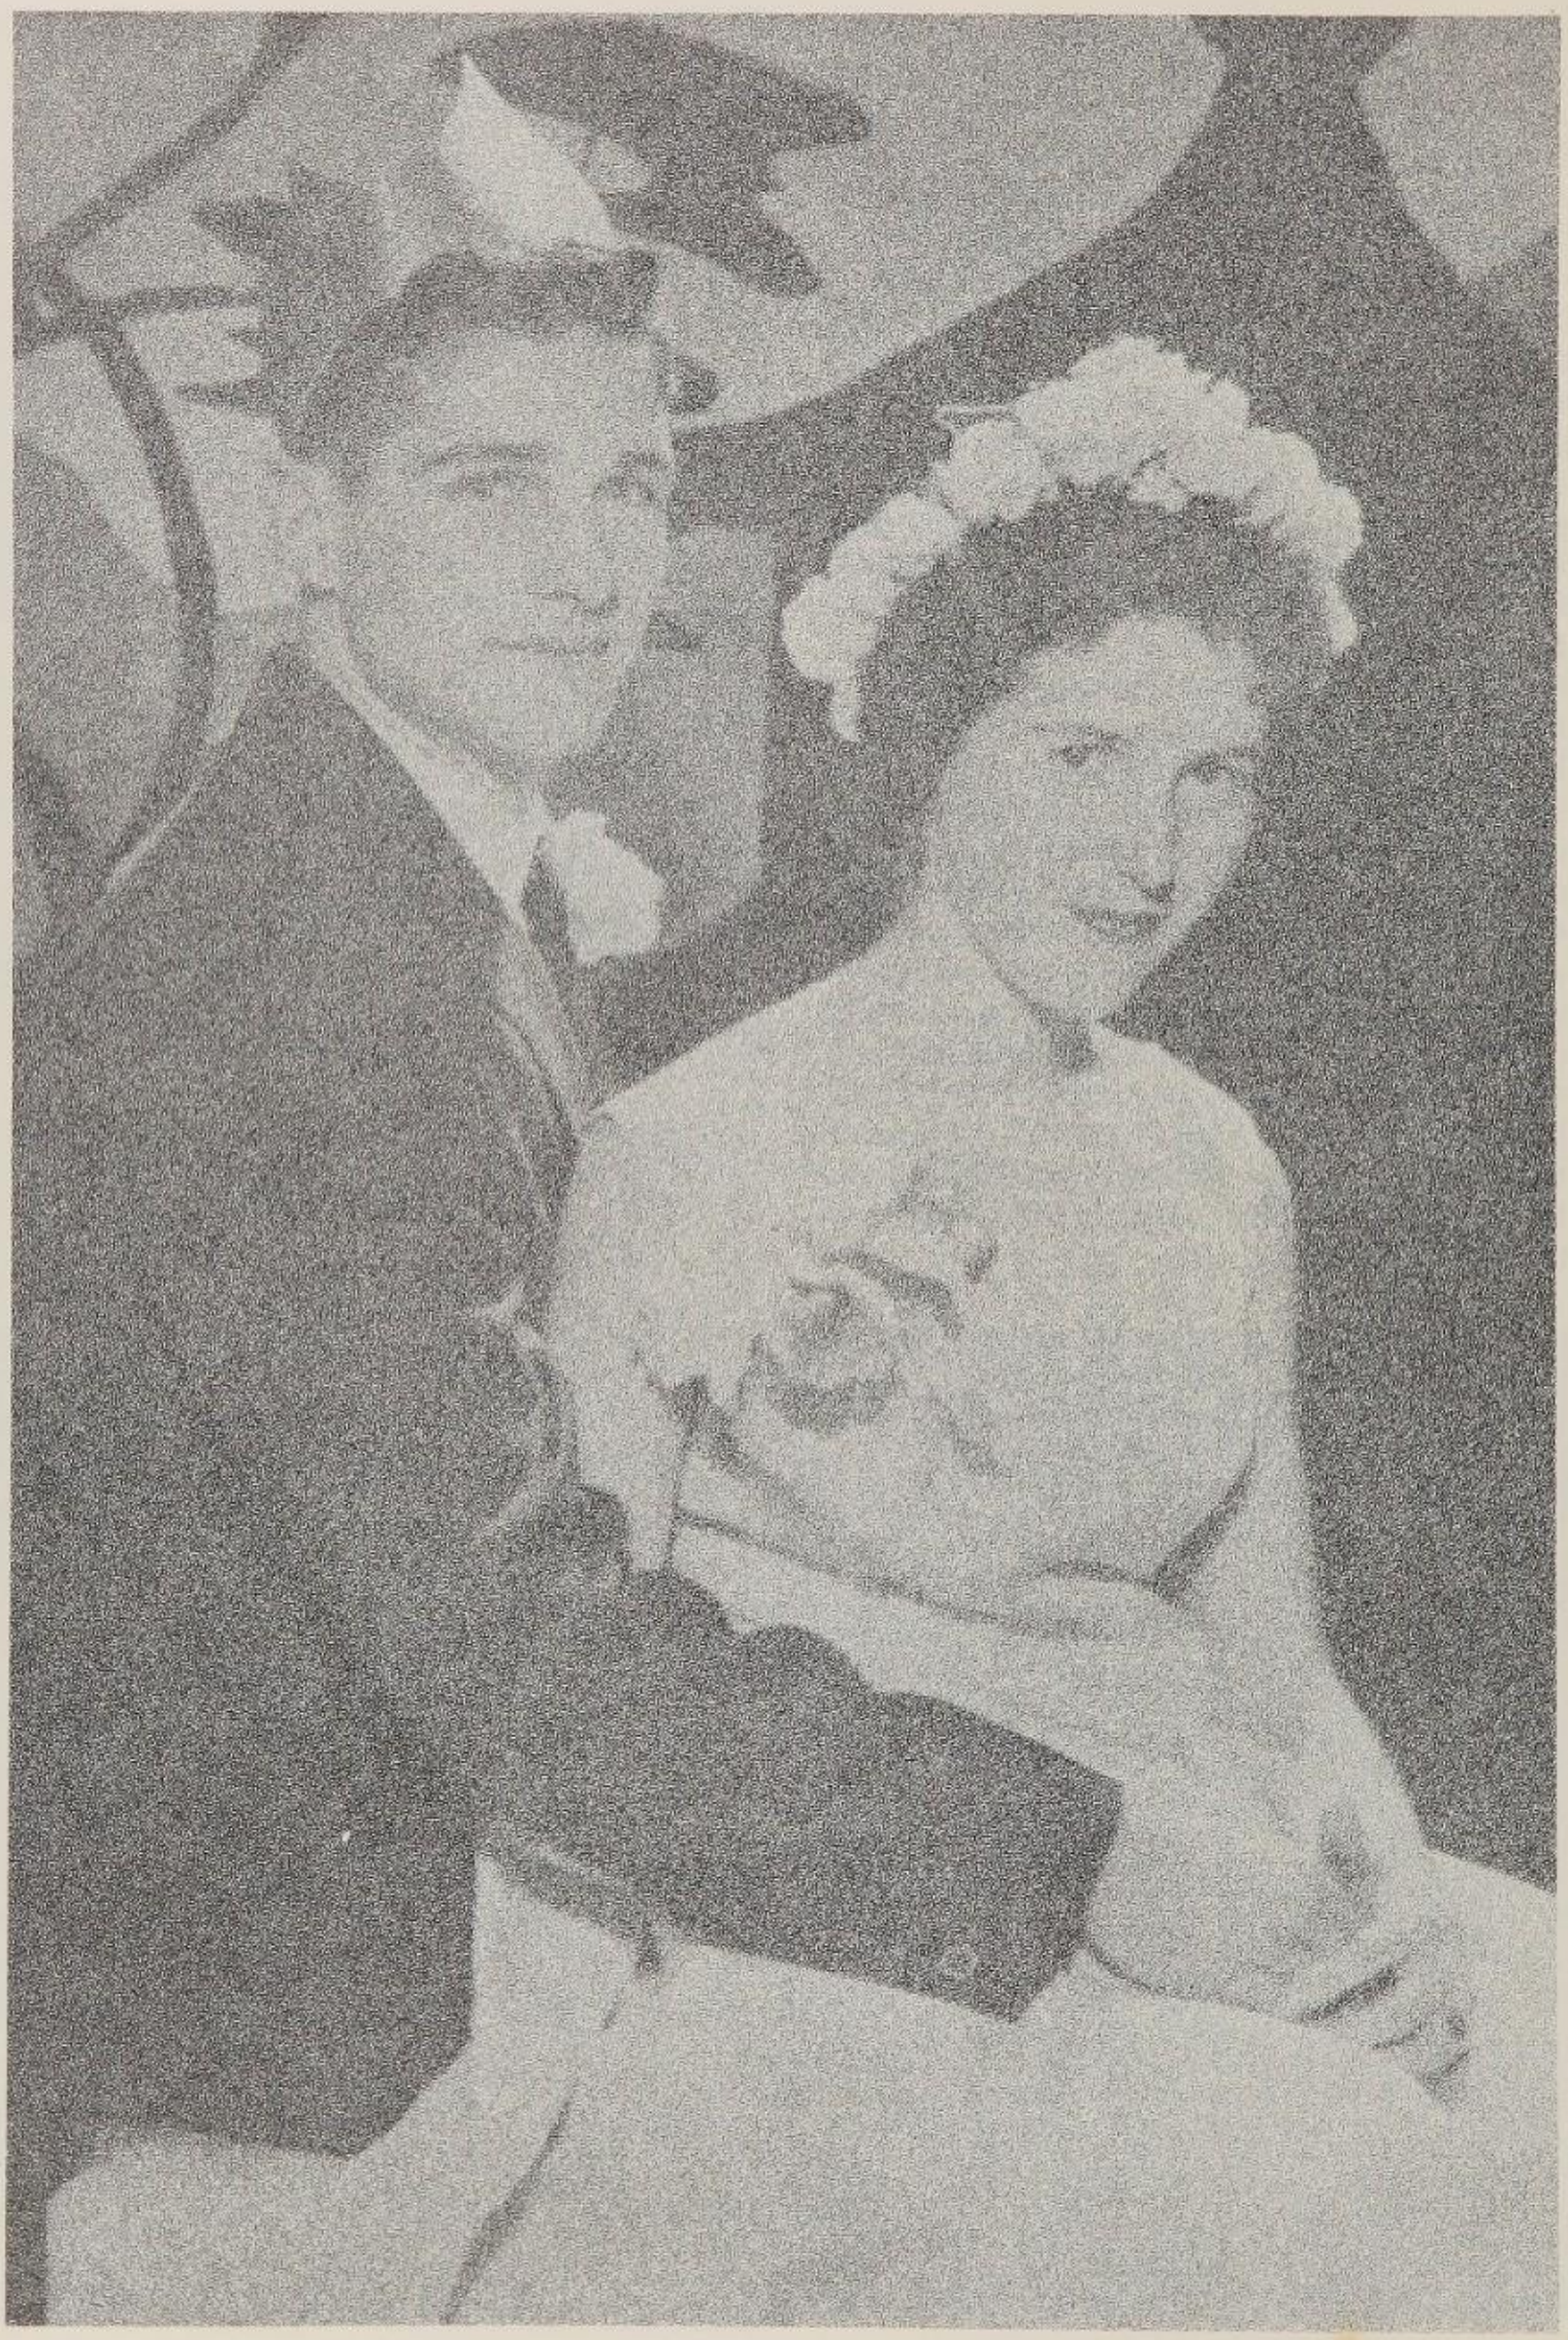
50's, 60's Set Trend For 70's



1950's - Bobby socks and saddle shoes, pony-tails and greased hair were as much a part of life at GBHS in the 50's as they were in the rest of the country. Development in many ways brought more sports and clubs to GBHS, adding diversity to the already good programs. The bands and choirs continued to be popular, and often broke into smaller, more specialized groups for performances. Several teachers who are still teaching here joined the staff during the 50's.

1960's - With the opening of the "new" school in 1963, the students of GBHS for the first time were without seventh and eighth graders in the same building. The new building provided more modern equipment and substantially more room, opening new doors for students. The 60's also brought more awareness of the world and especially the politics of our country. National elections and policies were discussed not only in government classes, but also in the halls and cafeteria. Little has changed in the way of sports and clubs since the 60's; specialized clubs have been added, and more sports. Perhaps by studying the past, we can gain a greater insight into the development of the type of education we now know.

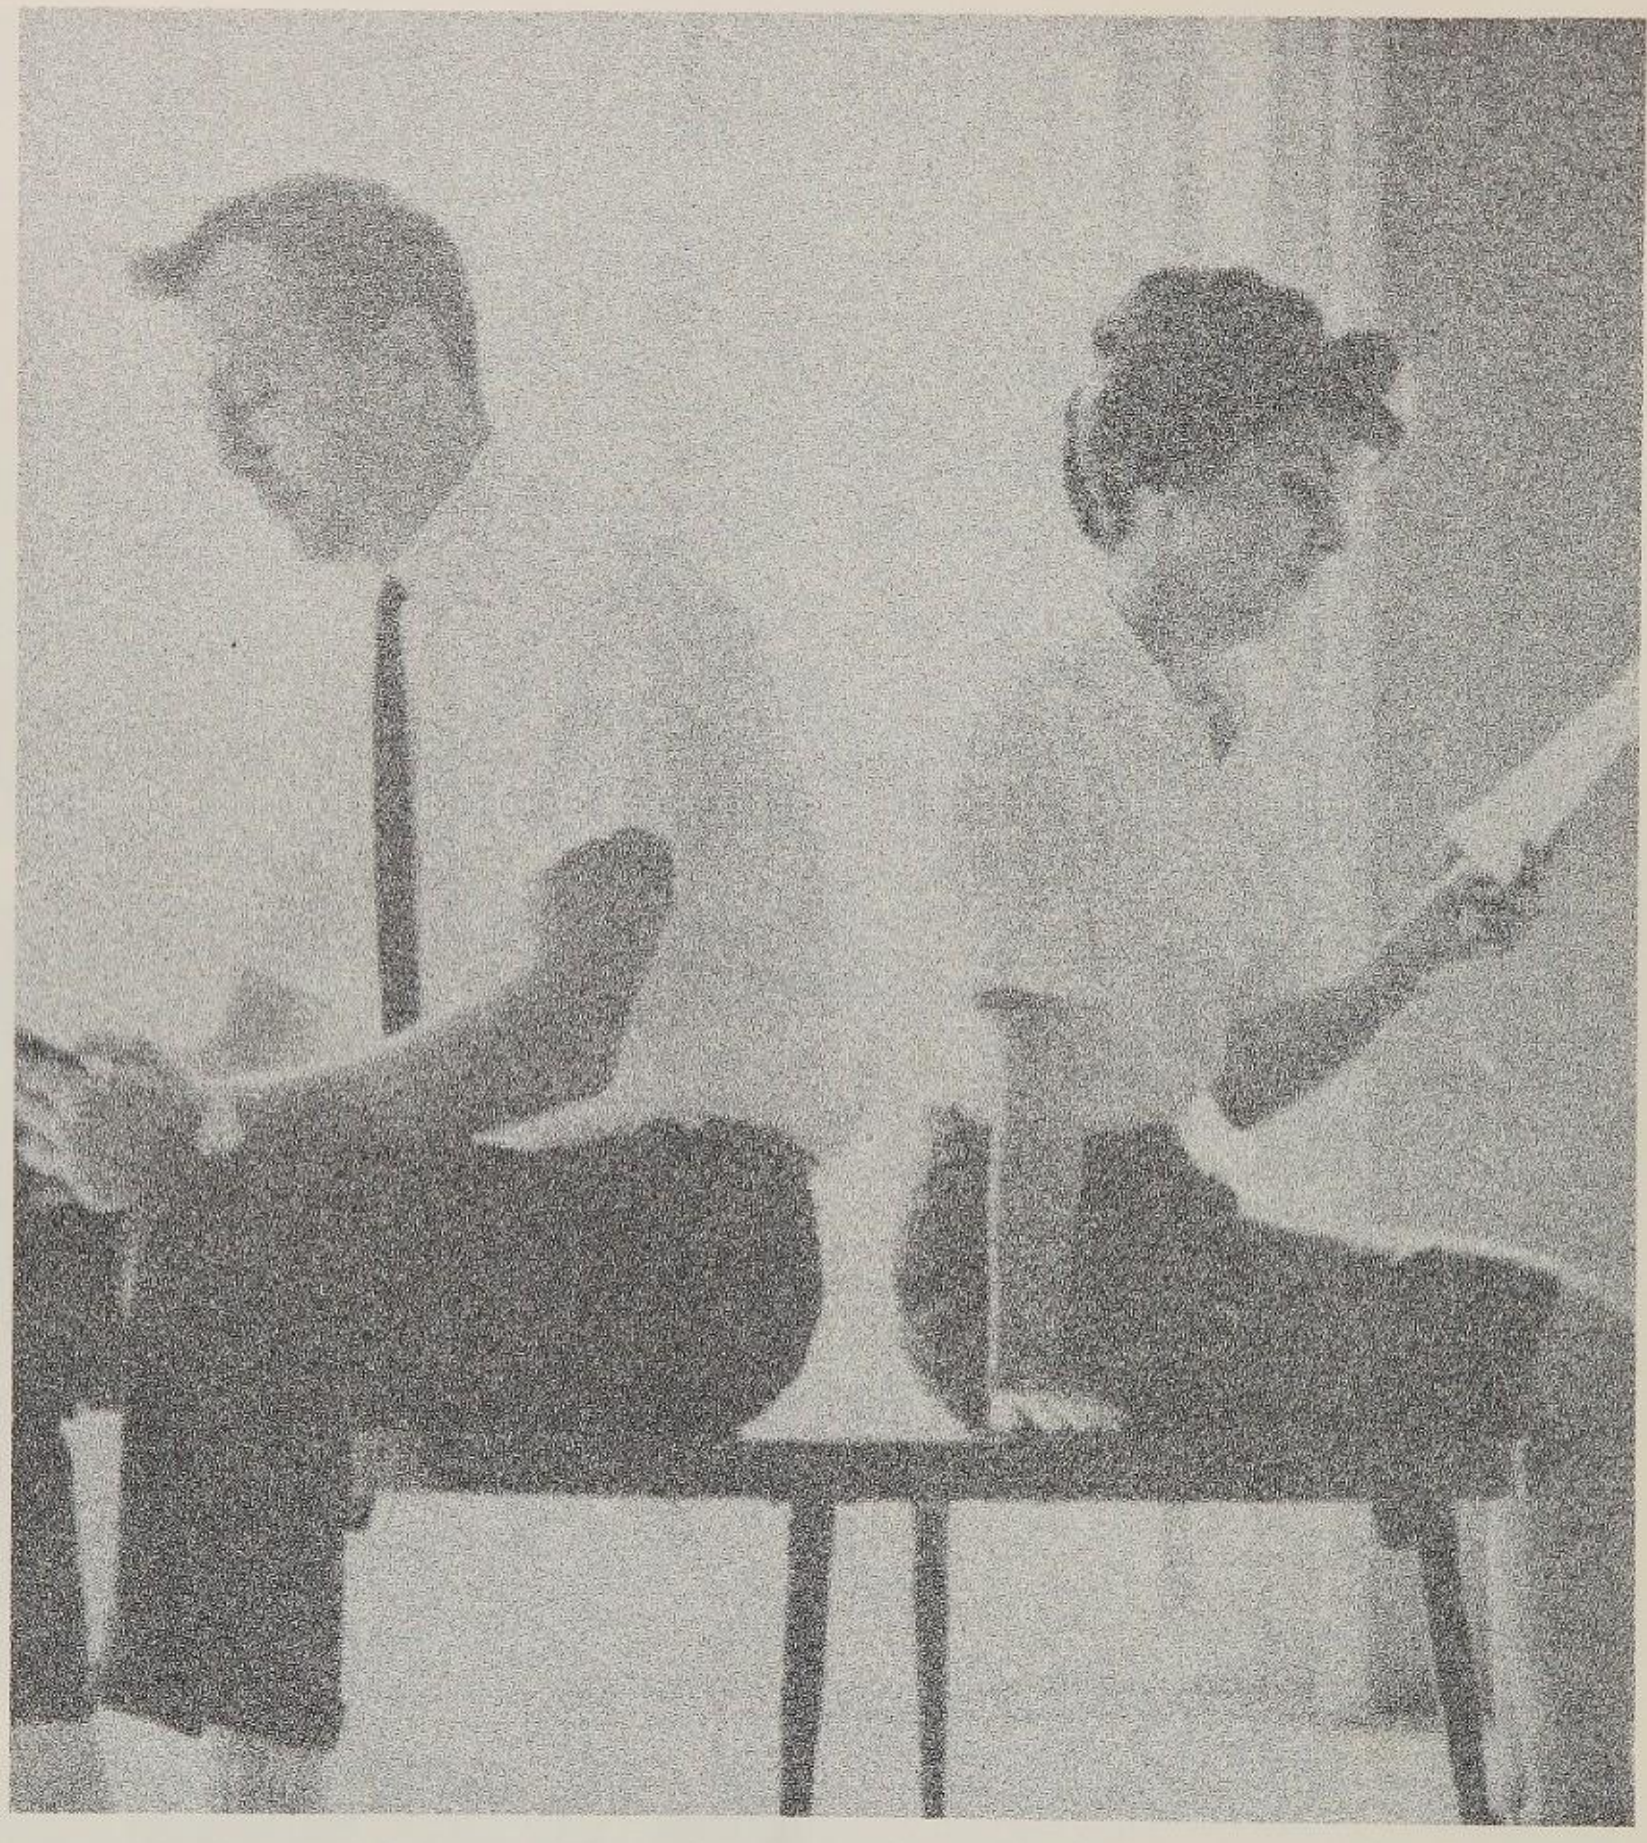
Teachers Become Part Of History



Although the antiques and old buildings are an important facet of the history of any area, it is the people who make history come alive. Throughout the years, GBHS has had special people serving the school as students, teachers, and administrators. Many of the present teachers are graduates of GBHS. The pictures which appear on these pages were taken from old Echoes as a show of appreciation to the teachers who have remained at GBHS, and those who have returned to teach at the school from which they graduated.

In the early 1800's, Grand Blanc (population 250) had one drug store, two general stores, one farm tool store, and several mechanical shops. The needs of the town were almost complete fulfilled by these small, locally-owned businesses. As the town grew and interests became more diversified, the requirements of the residents also changed. Today there are scores of business in Grand Blanc Township offering almost every product and service imaginable. The merchants have grown with the town, and many support the community's activities as enthusiastically as they did when we were a small town of 250.

Ode To Hoffy

She walks in beauty like the night,
And helps us all through deadline strife.
She yells and screams and tears her hair,
Just to be sure we know she's there.

She reads our copy word by word.
Before she's through she's cut a third.
Our triplicates are never right,
But we start again without a fight.

About her diets we always joke,
She drinks a Tab and not a Coke.
Her trip at Christmas was quite a spree,
Once she paid the doctor's fee.

She yells when Peter won't give money.
He chows down his food and she thinks it's funny.
Nath's questionnaires are constantly strewn,
And notes to Cheryl fill up Hoff's room.

H.R. comes 'round every so often,
and when he does, Hoff seems to soften.

Unless a deadline is coming soon,
In which case Hoff's voice fills up the room.

In spite of the fact that we've teased her for days,
We care about Hoff and we hope that she stays.
We're sorry Hoff if you think this is sappy,
But the staff really loves you and we hope that you're happy.

Panic Strikes, But Echo Survives

Another year of making (and missing) impossible deadlines, developing pictures overnight, and writing copy without information has passed, and the Echo staff has survived. After we got over the shock of 18 "rookies" on our 25 member staff, we settled down to publish "The Book." Underclass pictures were no more of a hassle than usual, and the student body seemed more helpful than in past years (except for the guy who tried to have his picture taken under the name of Chuck Wagons). First, second, and third deadlines came and went, leaving behind a tired staff more than ready for Christmas vacation. J. T., our advisor, left for a wonderful trip to Austria where an automobile accident forced her into a hospital and disrupted the entire staff. Fourth deadline, the largest ever for the staff, came in the middle of preparations for moving to the new school. With the final deadline in March, there was plenty of time left to organize sales and plan the banquet, which was held at The Old Mill on May 19, 1976.

Although the whole staff worked hard and diligently, the Seniors deserve special recognition for their super effort this year. Sports Editor Cheryl Hanna, aside from the imaginative layouts and well-written copy in her section, was at the IMA Sports Arena at 5:00 A.M. one morning to have the Hockey Team picture taken, a job typical of her thorough work. Putting together the Senior Section, one of the most difficult jobs in The Book, was Nath Anderson's job as Senior Editor. She spent hours writing copy which is relevant to the graduates of 1976, as she has for the past three years. Lisa Nelson managed to keep up with the mountains of copy that needed to be typed in the days before a deadline, and also found time (somehow) to help out with the Freshman Section. Although Scott Dinger and Joe Morris didn't do layouts or write copy often, they were still an important part of the staff. Scott took exceptional pictures for the past two years, many of which are in the opening and closing sections of this book. Joe, always around to help, did everything from selling ads to writing copy in a pinch. Then there's Peter Rachor. Mr. Sam Lyndon, Walsworth Publishing's representative, says that the reason our staff is so different from most yearbook staffs is because of Peter. I think he's right, because without Peter, the financial end of "The Book" would have been in trouble.

I would like to extend my personal thanks to the following people, without whose help and guidance the 76 Echo would not have survived:

Mr. Sam Lyndon of Walsworth Publishing - for his patience and understanding.

Mr. George Sharley of Baldwin-Chase - for his outstanding photographs and all the time he gave us.

Mrs. Helen Sumpter - for keeping our books accurate.

Mr. Robert Burek - for his support and the time he devoted to us when we needed it.

Mr. Wayne Schmitz - for getting our typewriters.

Ms. Julie Taylor - for caring enough to stay with us.

To Trish

It takes a special kind of person to be an editor. It takes skill, of course, and a willingness to give up many hours of free time. But the person who becomes editor doesn't do so to gain popularity or recognition. In fact, the editor may often wonder, "why am I doing this job at all?" We're sure, Trish, that you've felt this way at times. But through it all, you always encouraged us to do our best, and often finished work we didn't do ourselves. We didn't always agree, and we sometimes argued (and cried) but, with your guidance, we made it. We wrote a book together, but we learned a lot more than yearbook skills. We learned that it takes a special person to stick up for her ideals, and not quit. We learned that by working together we can do a lot more than if we don't. Most important, we learned that each person is an individual, and has a special gift to give. Thanks, Trish, for giving.

Another school year has ended. Todays became yesterdays. Tomorrows became todays. Perhaps more than anything, this bicentennial year reminded us that every year is one of

P.S.

Don't forget the great times we have seen + had together.
without you I never would have made it
through physics
or need I mention
that.
I know our friendship will sail the ~~seas~~ for a long time (or until the wind stops blowing)
But I hope that's never!

Cora,
(a nice way to start)
See if any of this grabs you.

Need I say more?
Not really but I will any way.
Besides the usual nice to have met you, glad we are friends (as is)
I want to tell you to GOTO.

Cora,
I can't really say that History was the most exciting class in the world (at 7:00 in the morning, are you kidding?)
but it was fun and I'm glad I got the chance to meet you and talk.
Good luck always
and in everything you do.

Cora,
As we're both going off to different colleges, we'll probably never see each other again ("sob") so, in case I never see you again, here goes.

goodbye, good luck, have fun, auf wiedersehen, (fill in the blank) and so on. I have a happy future.
